Garbage Negotiations Break Down

Negotiations between the Daly City Scavenger Company and Teamsters Union Local 350, held Monday in the San Francisco office of Federal Mediator Louis Sabatino, broke off after 5½ hours without agreement on either side.

There were no more meetings scheduled, Sabatino said.

The week-long strike enters its second week today with no relief in sight.

The company said it had offered a 41 per cent total pay and fringe benefit increase, however the union membership rejected the proposal and offered counter demands totaling some 74 per cent.

Originally, scavenger company president Al Sereni made his 41 per cent pay hike package contingent on whether the Daly City City Council, which sets rates for garbage collections, would grant them a collection rate increase.

The union negotiators, Robert Morales and Fernando Bussi, said the company's 28 employes could not accept such a contract.

Sereni, after receiving more information on Phase IV regulations lifted the contingency. However union representatives said there were now other considerations and the two sides could not reach agreement on several points.

DISPOSAL PROBLEM GROWS - The scene at Crocker School is typical of the Daly City area in the second week of a strike by scavenger truck drivers. Hopes were expressed today that federal mediation would settle the dispute and permit the start of clean-up operations.

Up to Their Necks in Garbage

By FRANK LaPIERRE

People in Daly City may be up to their necks in garbage as the scavenger company strike enters its second week but the community's dogs are "having a ball" one Mission street merchant said today.

Loose dogs are clawing through garbage stacked behind restaurants and grocery stores up and down Mission Street, according to Mission Street Merchants Association President Vince Merlo.

"The cans are all full and when we try to keep the overflow neat, along come the dogs and scatter the garbage everywhere," Merlo said.

His offices are being plagued by phone calls from other merchants asking what can be done.

"I tell them what the newspapers have been recommending since the strike started last week — put the garbage in plastic bags and tie the top," Merlo said.

But the dogs tear through the thin plastic bags to get at the contents. Then the wind takes over.

Top officials at the scavenger company — six of them — are doing their best to service these commercial areas, according to Al Serani, president of the Daly City Scavenger Company.

Most of the company's 72,000 plus customers are cooperating. So far only one pickup has been missed and the average family disposes of about 80 pounds of refuse per week.

The impact of the strike will not become evident, until the second pickup is missed starting Wednesday, Sereni feels.

A Serramonte merchant, who lives in Daly City, confided he takes his household refuse to work with him and dumps it in a huge commercial container outside the building, knowing the scavenger company will pick it up sooner or later.

A Broadmoor resident said he disposes of one 30-gallon can and a small box of cuttings per week.

He has not had any problem yet in storing the refuse in plastic bags.

But the scene is not pretty in some spots where people, it appears, have decided reclamation centers for recycling goods is a great place to toss garbage.

In the otherwise orderly Serramonte section of the city people have already begun dumping their garbage in vacant lots and around bins normally used to collect items for the needy.

When Sereni went to the Mussel Rock dump site Monday he was greeted by a huge pile of refuse unceremoniously dumped outside the gate.

In the newer sections of the city garbage disposals are installed in many homes. But the health problem in the older, eastern sectors of the city could heighten as the strike drags on, officials fear.

Health officials are keeping an eye on the situation here.

They fear rats may be attracted by garbage stacked outside homes in overflowing containers.

Police have already been instructed to arrest any and all persons found throwing garbage on city streets or vacant lots. An especially watchful eye is being kept on San Bruno Mountain, one policeman said.

Sereni said his offices have received many phone calls from citizens asking what they can do with their garbage.

"Most people cooperate. However, we have had a few persons who just don't want to understand the situation," he said.

Some irate citizens have called Sereni at his home and threatened him "unless I end the strike right away."

Others have called the company offices and informed the staff there they would simply dump garbage in the streets unless someone came around to pick it up.

What a Difference a Year Makes

It's All Positive at Serramonte

If there is any feeling of discontent at Serramonte High School in Daly City, those persons most closely associated with the campus certainly are keeping their feelings a well hidden secret.

Having just completed its fourth year of operation and graduating its first four year class, the high school is one with a turbulent past. It now appears that parents, students, community and administration finally are forgetting the conflicts which plagued the school whenitopenedin1969.

Principal Anthony Trujillo has concluded his first year at the high school and is spending the summer preparing for a new year and new ideas. Trujillo seems to be part of the reason the Serramonte High School community has become more in touch with the campus and better able to relate to and live with the successes and failures it incurs.

"If you didn't have the history behind Serramonte High School, I would say this has been a very successful high school," the principal declared. He spoke of the many awards and honors won by its students including a state representative to Boy's Nation, a championship basketball team, large scholarship amounts, a second place winner in a national carpentry contest, and for the first time this past year the formation of a student newspaper.

HOWEVER, BENEATH all the glittering accomplishments of the students he notes that during the first years of operation parents of those students sent to the school were not all together willing to accept its unusual concepts, its format, its enrollment drawing area, and even the intrusion of the high school itself into a community which had long been attached to other high schools in the Jefferson Union High School District.

Trujillo says now the high school is establishing better relations with its population and community. He feels that the three most important ingredients in obtaining a successful high school have done well at Serramonte this year — students are "some of the best"; he views the staff as "excellent," and feels that the "community now believes in us."

When the new principal arrived at the campus early last fall he felt some apprehension on the part of parents to fully accept the campus. They didn't seem to believe in the school. However, during the course of the year he feels the staff has attained an atmosphere in which they are able to tell the community both their successes and their failures.

"We don't sell them a bill of goods," he asserted. "When we do have a success it is a believable one. Where we fail, we tell them."

Obtaining community interest in an especially difficult task for the administration. Students come to Serramonte from five detached and vastly different Daly City neighborhoods. The enrollment is acquired from the Bayshore area, the Crocker area along Mission Street, the Olympia section, the "walk-on" area of Westlake and St. Francis Heights, and the Palisades section from which students have the option of attending Serramonte or Westmoor High School.

AN ADDITIONAL problem in unifying the student population is that 50 per cent of the students arrive to school by bus and must meet those buses on time in the afternoon to return home.

Trujillo said he believes that because of the population area spread, the high school has no natural community. Thus, the school must attempt to get the community to identify with

New Principal

Burt Heads Thornton HS

Terra Nova High School Assistant Principal Richard Burt was appointed principal of Thornton High School by trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District last Tuesday.

Burt, who has been assistant principal-administration for the Pacific high school since 1966, will begin his new duties immediately, succeeding Ralph Galloway at the Daly City special education high school.

Galloway has become vice principal of Gunn High School in Palo Alto.

Burt, who has been in the JUHSD district for 13 years, and in education for 16, has been active in district and community affairs, according to Supt. Edward D. Morgan.

Burt went to the Pacifica school in 1960 as a physical education and U.S. history teacher. Burt, 41, lives in San Bruno. He coached varsity baseball and basketball before moving up to administration.

The new principal has been chairman of the North County School-Police-Probation Committee, and of the Family Service Agency Advisory Board.

Morgan pointed out that Burt also organized the Organization for Student Action on the Terra Nova campus, thought necessary (it still is in operation) when Terra Nova had the largest number of drug and discipline problems in the district.

RESCUERS are shown helping the driver of this overturned truck out of the vehicle on Skyline Boulevard a mile south of Westmoor Avenue in Daly City at about 7 p.m. Friday. Officer Steven Powell holds the door open while a man helps the driver, hidden by door, out of the truck. The boy, also a passerby, had climbed to the top of the truck to help if he could. The driver, Edward Huhtala, 58, 1062 Gilman Drive, Colma, was northbound on Skyline when he braked to slow for another accident which Powell was investigating at the time. He lost control of the van and overturned, police said. No injuries were reported.

Slaying: Activities Being Traced

Sheriff's investigators are seeking to determine the activities of Jose Michael Vallaroman, 17-year-old Pacifica youth, during the 1½ hours from the time he was last seen alive in San Francisco and the time his bullet-riddled body was found next to Guadalupe Canyon Parkway on San Bruno Mountain early Saturday.

Det. Sgt. Brendan Maguire said today that the youth, who lived at 250 El Dorado Drive, had been shot seven times with two different guns. There were four wounds from a .22-caliber weapon and three wounds by a .38-caliber gun.

Maguire reported that the youth was last seen alive by the father of his girlfriend when he dropped off the boy at Sixteenth and Church streets in San Francisco at 12:10 a.m. Young Vallaroman said he intended to visit his grandmother who lives in the area. He never reached her home.

It was 1:40 a.m. when Vallaroman's body was found dumped alongside the parkway, just a half-mile from where the body of another shooting victim, John Henry Ellis, 21, was discovered a week earlier.

Maguire reports that there is no connection between the two murders, just that the lonely stretch of roadway appears to be a convenient spot for disposing of bodies.

them. He feels it is similar to the hub of a wheel held together by many spokes.

"I made great demands on myself and my staff to be where students are this year," Trujillo contends. He instituted a special "walk and talk time" in which administrators were required to get out on the campus during the day and informally and casually talk to students. In fact, he tried to see that administrators spend 50 per cent of their time with students during the year by attending their programs and productions and meeting them in school.

Vice principal Thomas Mohr, who is beginning his fourth year at the school, feels communication has been the key to improved community - campus relations in the past year.

"The community has a much more positive feeling about this school," Mohr declared. "We understand better what the community thinks of us.

"People are beginning to understand we are a good school," he continued. "But they are insisting that we be better." He feels that parental acceptance of a school is of extreme importance.

He also feels relations with students have greatly improved creating a much more relaxed atmosphere.

"Students feel more comfortable and more positive about the school," he deemed.

PARENT ASSOCIATION President Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson feels community relations have most definitely improved.

"The new principal is a major factor," she said. "He came in with one big thrust to get to know the community."

Mrs. Nelson feels that the modular scheduling system of the high school has been better accepted in the past year, perhaps because parents and the community are beginning to know "what it's all about." In fact, Trujillo already has made efforts to acquaint the parents with a new type of scheduling that will be instituted next year.

Despite the praise she has for Trujillo and his efforts, Mrs. Nelson sees a continuing need to improve human relations as much as possible. She feels better knowledge of the school can be rewarding for the parents.

Mrs. Jane Powell, president of the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees, feels there is little value in looking back to problems and prefers to look ahead to the challenges of tomorrow.

"We do need to spend more time making the school even better," Mrs. Powell offered. She noted that at least one grievance parents had in the beginning of the school, allegiances to other high schools because of children who had attended there, is no longer a concern.

"Serramonte is going to be like all our schools, unique and to itself," the board member asserted. She also feels that the parental acceptance of any high school is critically important and a campus should strive to please those persons who send their children to them for an education.

"Mr. Trujillo worked hard to change the minuses in the school," she claimed.

TRUJILLO IS NOT convinced the school is perfect, in fact, far from it. But he admits they are willing to take the chances and try new ideas because even the failures can be positive.

"It's like gambling in Reno, if you're afraid to lose, you will never win," he stressed.

Fall Preview At Tanforan

Back-to-school may be far from children's minds, but now is the time to take a look at what's being offered from the country's leading fashion designers.

The Tanforan Park Merchants Association will have a preview look at back-to-school fashions in the central mall at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Many of the mall stores will present the latest designs for both children and adults. Tanforan Park Shopping Center is at El Camino Real and Sneath Lane in San Bruno.

S.S.F. Power Failure

Power was out in an industrial sector of South San Francisco for 35 minuites Friday night.

A spokesman for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. said equipment failed in three areas simultaneously, blacking out the facilities of 104 customers, most of them industrial users, at 10:28 p.m.

The failure was in the Littlefield Road, Harbor Way, Harris Street areas.

The Folger's Coffee facility was reported still out of PG&E power early Saturday as crews worked to replace a transformer.

The PG&E spokesman said the company's crews had not yet pinpointed the cause of the outage, although they suspected moisture from htavy fog.

Two Films Soon on Childbirth

Film public showings on the Lamaze method of childbirth have been scheduled by the American Society for Prophylaxis in Obstetrics.

One will be from 7 to 9 p.m. August 24 at the South San Francisco public library, 840 West Orange Avenue, and the other from 8 to 10 p.m. September 7 at the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration parish hall, Thirty-ninth Avenue and Alameda de las Pulgas, San Mateo.

There will be two films at each showing, "The Story of Eric" and "A Shared Beginning." A representative from La Leche League will discuss breast feeding at the South San Francisco meeting.

The Lamaze method is a form of prepared childbirth in which both husband and wife participate through instruction. The expectant couple learns breathing and relaxation techniques which help the wife with labor and delivery.

Record Activity

Airport Growth Continues

People and property continued moving through San Francisco International Airport in ever-grtater numbers during fiscal 1972-73, breaking all records for June.

Only movement of mail showed downward trend; numbers of aircraft movements, numbers of passengers, air freight, and air express showed increases.

If the passenger trend continues, more than 17 million people will have moved through the airport's boarding gates by the end of 1973.

For fiscal '72-'73, aircraft movements were up 3.1 per cent, passenger movements up 10.5 per cent, air mail down 12 per cent, express up 13.3 per cent, and air freight up 8.1 per cent.

In June, aircraft movements were up 6.3 per cent higher than June of 1972, passenger movements up 10.5 per cent, mail down 13.1 per cent, express up 20.4 per cent, and air freight up 23.3 ptr cent.

Airports Director William Dwyer said the June figures of 1,557,920 passengers and 67,676,400 pounds of air freight set all-time records for the month of June.

During the fiscal year just ended, 16,205,150 people moved through the airport, he said, and air freight totaled 673,139,035 pounds.

Dwyer called attention to the air freight growth in June as the "highest monthly percentage increase since November 1972."

But while other fitures climb, mail figures continue to drop.

In fiscal '72-'73, the total was 28,208,088 pounds, down 12 per cent from the previous fiscal year. Of this total, 19,816,238 pounds was in first-class mail moving by air, a drop of 20.7 per cent from the previous year. Air mail had dropped 8,391,850 pounds, down 6 per cent from the previous year.

These trends continued during June, with first-class mail moved by air dropping to 5,000,611 pounds for the month, down 21.4 per cent from June of a year ago. Air mail weighed 9,782,783 pounds during June, down 8.2 per cent, for a total mail decrease of 13.1 per cent for the month.

Remains in Poor Shape

Shooting victim Gary Correa, 28, of 185 Garden Lane, Millbrae, remained in critical condition at Peninsula Hospital from a bullet wound in the chest received Friday night.

Police said Gary was injured during an argument with his brother, Curtis, age 27, in Curtis' neighboring apartment at 185 Garden Lane.

The argument reportedly arose, police said, when the brothers' mother, Esther Correa of San Mateo, arrived with Gary's ex-wife, Barbara, to visit at Curtis' apartment, and found Gary and his present girlfriend already present.

During the argument, police say, Curtis went to the bedroom and got a .308-caliber rifle. The rifle went off while the row continued, according to police.

When police arrived, they said, Curtis had broken the rifle in half and thrown it on the floor, and was sitting on a couch, weeping in grief.

He is being held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, said police.

Board Approves Budget

12-Cent County Tax Cut Okayed

A San Mateo County budget of $141,455,307 for 1973-74 which will enable the county to pass on a 12-cent tax reduction to its taxpayers was adopted last Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Although the new budget is an increase of $11,319,437 over last year, a 10.17 per cent increase in the assessed valuation and the receipt of $4,554,818 in federal revenue sharing funds will make it possible for the county to reduce the tax rate from $2.09 per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.97, County Mgr. M. D. Tarshes said.

The significant point to the taxpayer, Tarshes said, is that the actual amount of property taxes to be collected by the county will be reduced.

Although the Board of Supervisors will not adopt the tax rate until late August, Tarshes predicted there will only be a fractional difference in the official rate and the one he has forecast. San Mateo County pro- tax rate of any urban county in California, Tarshes stated.

Board Chairman Robert St. Clair, complimenting the staff on its budget preparation, said the anticipated 12-cent tax rate reduction is "in line with the board's philosophy to provide the highest level of service at the lowest possible cost."

Prior to adopting the budget, the board approved some specific appropriation changes necessitated by law and in accordance with earlier action.

The contingency fund was restored to its original $1,900,000, with another $600,000 added for the anticipated amount the county will have to appropriate to supplement the flat rate to be allocated by the federal government for welfare assistance. The federal amount will be the same throughout the country, and the county will have to appropriate the difference to maintain the same level of aid as in the past before the federal government took over direct assistance.

An additional $308,910 was added to the county's Medi-Cal contribution, bringing the total to $6,578,500. This was necessary, Tarshes said, because the contribution is based on assessed valuation. The county, in its budget deliberations, had budgeted on the basis of a 6 per cent increase in assessed valuation.

An additional $167,248 was added to the park and open space fund to provide the equivalent of 10 cents on the tax rate, as mandated by voters in the November general election.

The library fund was increased by $56,860 to provide restoration of regular library hours, which had earlier been cut back because of an anticipated budget decrease, and to restore to the full amount the book purchase account, which also had been reduced.

Air Crash Kills Dad, Two Sons

A San Bruno father and his two sons were among the 72 persons killed aboard the Pan American Boeing 707 which crashed into the South Pacific near Papeete, Tahiti July 23, it was learned today.

The victims, Vaschau Kvasnicka, 47, and his two sons, John, 13 and Gregory, 12, were returning home to San Bruno from New Zealand when the tragedy struck.

The mother of the two boys, Mrs. Carol Kvasnicka, 35 and four of the couple's other sons remained in Devenport, New Zealand, and had planned to join the family at their San Bruno home at 1172 Crystal Springs Avenue later this summer.

"I felt like I lost one of my own sons," said Mrs. Pat Bell, a neighbor of the Kvasnickas, who told The Times of the tragedy today.

Memorial services for the father — who was employed as a mechanic for United Air Lines — and the two sons will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at St. Robert's Catholic Church in San Bruno.

Mrs. Kvasnicka, a native of New Zealand, had been living there for the past two years with four of their sons. The father and the the oldest sons, Peter 14, and John 13, had been living in San Bruno. Kvasnicka traveled regularly to New Zealand to see the rest of his family.

The entire family would have been reunited in San Bruno once again in late August had the tragedy not occurred.

Besides the mother, the surviving sons include Peter, Joe, Paul and Ted. Peter had planned to return with his father on the flight, but at the last moment 12-year-ild Gregory went in his place.

S.S.F. Chiefs Seeking New, Improved Communications

Police Chief Sal Rosano and Fire Chief Lawrence Toellner recently detailed to the South San Francisco City Council how creation of a new Communications Division would make their departments more efficient.

Proposed is the replacement of the police, fire and street department communication system by a new 10-person division. The present six police dispatchers would be used, and three additional dispatchers, plus a communications supervisor would be added.

This number is the minimum, Rosano said, to insure two persons on duty at all times, to take care of emergency situations. During lax periods, the dispatchers — housed in the police department — would perform various clerical duties. These would include operation of the warrent computer terminals.

"Unfortunately," he added, "we cannot anticipate when an emergency would arise."

Chief Toellner explained that the new system would relieve firemen of operating the central firehouse phone and radio during a fire, and would also prevent the present five-minute period in which there is no communication, while a covering fire company is on its way to the central firehouse.

He explained that the proposal arose because both the fire and police stations need new equipment at this time. One telephone number would reach both fire and police departments during an emergency, and would also cut out much of the cross-communication that now goes on between them during such emergencies.

The new department would cost the city $188,594, including $134,269 for salaries, $35,421 for materials and services, and $18,904 for capital outlay. The salary figure includes $37,460 for the four new positions.

Councilmen also discussed requests for new employes in the city garage and custodian departments, as well a remodeling of the city hall and other city buildings. Altogether, a total increase of 30 additional employes were recommended by former City Mgr. Gale Dreisbach, who left the city last week. His recommendations were explained by Finance Officer and Acting City Manager Ed Alario. South San Francisco currently has 317 positions authorized.

Requested for the city garage was an increase from $67,455, for 1972-73, to $457,346 for 1973-74. Alario was recommending $283,396, and asking for addition of a working foreman, and a full-time account clerk, to replace the present part-time clerk.

Alario explained that at present, the garage cannot take care of preventative maintenance, since it has a hard time just taking care of emergencies without excess delays. When asked about farming out work to private garages, Alario replied that this was done with many kinds of repairs. However, he noted, private garages in the area are already quite busy and involve long delays.

He explained that much of the increase is transfer of revolving funds for purchase of gasoline and automotive supplies were being transferred from other departments. He was not recommending a $90,000 request for an 85-foot elevating platform fire truck.

The additional custodian being requested, Alario explained, was to replace the custodian now paid by the Emergency Employment Administration. The position is needed because it takes so many hours to clean so much square feet of floor space, Mario told the council. The EEA funding is coming to a close.

Councilmen also discussed the need for custodians to clean the four firehouses, instead of leaving it to the firemen, thus doubling the building maintenance cost for the four firehouses to $27,053.

Remodeling of City Hall would cost $64,000, Alario told councilmen. This would include $25,000 for air conditioning-heating units, $7,000 for replacement of rotted wooden windows and sashes with aluminum, $10,000 for carpeting, $15,000 for rewiring City Hall.

Alario told councilmen that the remodeling done during the past week, involving mainly changing of partitions in the city manager's and engineer's suites, came to $3300.

He gave first priority to rewiring. At present, it is often necessary to turn several switches on and off to get the right amount of power to lights. Costs of repair of the current heating system, he added, would cost nearly the amount for replacement.

Alario, however, nixed requests for improvements on the police station ($17,750), central firehouse ($10,000), Buri Buri firehouse ($4,000), Civi Center Library ($7000) and Magnolia Center ($514) on the basis that the library's windows did not need replacement as badly as City Hall, and the other buildings are temporary. He did recommend painting and smaller improvements to keep those buildings habitable.

New Runway Offer by Ecologists

Three Bay Area ecology groups are offering to back away from their lawsuit which would prevent extension of San Francisco International Airport's main runway.

Gil Bailie, as spokesman for the Ecology Center, San Francisco Tomorrow, and Friends of the Earth, said the runway extension would "tend to reduce aircraft noise levels in Foster City and South San Francisco."

Funds for the extension, he said, are already available from general obligation bonds the city's taxpayers approved in 1967, and much of the work is done.

No immediate reaction to the reported offer was available from airport officials.

The lawsuit, filed May 17 after studies conducted on behalf of the environmental organizations by independent experts, maintains that other elements of the expansion plan would not only be extremely damaging environmentally, but economically unsound as well. The plan would more than double the passenger capacity and quadruple the cargo capacity and add significantly to the noise and air contaminants from the aircraft and increased automobile traffic in and around the airport.

The partial settlement offer was approved at a meeting of the representatives of plaintiff's held July 2. Precise details have not been agreed upon.

Swim Lessons

There are still openings in Pacifica's Session 5 for both tiny tot and children swim lessons. The session will be for one week and will run from Aug. 13 through 17. Registration for the classes is being taken at the Parks, Beaches and Recreation Department offices 170 Santa Maria Ave.

South S.F. Nominee Nixed

Fearing a stacked deck, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday voted to approve only one of two appointees recommended by the South San Francisco City Council to the advisory committee for the Colma Creek Flood Control Zone.

With two vacancies on the committee, the South San Francisco City Council had recommended Thomas G. Hinojos to fill an at-large position replacing Eugene Atillo, and City Atty. John Noonan to replace Gale Dreisbach as the South San Francisco member.

Indicating South San Francisco's recent opposition to the total $8.4 million flood control plan, Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald said he felt "these are negative nominations . . . a try to sabotage the project."

However, the board proceeded to appoint Hinojos to the at-large position, but declined to appoint Noonan as the city member after Supervisor Gerald F. Day said the board should seek someone "with a more objective outlook."

The Board of Supervisors has the authority to appoint all nine members to the committee. The membership consists of one member each from the participating cities — South San Francisco, Colma, Daly City, Pacifica and San Bruno, plus four at-large members.

Pacifica Hosts 40 Students From France on Study Tour of United States

By JACK BIK

Pacifica residents are playing host to some unusual guests this month.

A group of 40 French students on a study tour of the United States chose Pacifica as headquarters.

Forty-one Pacifica families are hosting the students, whose ages range from 13 to 24 years, treating them as if they were their own children.

Outside of that, the students have paid their own way, $450 apiece, which covers the cost of excursions and classes, as well as transportation.

In Pacifica since July 18, they already have made their impact upon the city.

Almost every monring they go to class at the Sharp Park Library for three hours to learn about the United States.

Mayor Aubrey Lumley declared a special Student Government Day.

The French students were hosted at breakfast by a local service club, and wound up the morning with a tour of City Hall, meeting the department heads.

That night, they attended the City Council meeting and Mayor Lumley presented a proclamation of welcome which he delivered in French.

Last Thursday, they held class in the Periwinkle Art Gallery at Pedro Point, where they learned about American art.

Thursday they were taking part in Pacifica Day at the San Mateo County Fair. Monday a lecture-survey of American Business will culminate in a trip to a local business.

Beatrice Lanier, 17-year-old daughter of a French prefect, reports that she has been learning how many different kinds of Americans there are—that the stereotypes she has been grouping Americans in just do not hold true.

"One of my fondest desires," she said, "has always been to see the American way of life."

Francis Dufour, 21, studying to be an engineer in Lyon, reports learning about the differences in French and American character. He was particularly impressed by the way the Americans accept the problems of traffic, not getting impatient in traffic "crushes," and the way they accept a traffic ticket as just a routine part of life.

Among major differences in student life they noted is the school system.

"In France," Beatrice reported, "the students work very hard. There is no free time to do what you want to do. In the United States, students can spend their time in sports and music. Young people can see what is going on about them . . . In the United States, students begin to study hard in college. Then they learn in four years what we learn in 12 years."

Their teachers are two young Americans who normally work at Silva Intermediate School in Newark, Russell Samsom and Diane Yeramian.

The two American teachers do not put the students through the grind that they are evidently accustomed to in France, but instead hold discussion classes on different aspects of American culture, such as American literature, education and politics.

Their classes started with a language lesson (the students have all had English in school) in which American idioms were surveyed. They are looking forward to a jazz demonstration by a well-known musician.

A field trip to San Francisco completed their first week, including a bay cruise. A second trip to San Francisco, next Tuesday, will be conducted by one of the host fathers, architect Don Atkinson. It will be an all-day walking tour.

Last weekend, the students took a field trip to Sacramento and Lake Tahoe. This week, they visited the University of California. Next week, they visit Roaring Camp. Then, their final field trip, August 13, they take a field tirp to Sausalito and Muir Woods. They leave August 15—home for France.

One social event is on their calendar — their farewell party August 12.

At first glance, the students seen no different than any other group of teen-agers in Pacifica — they appear to dress the same, and have the same animated expressions on their faces as they laugh and chat together. It is only when one gets close that one realizes it is all in French.

The tour is sponsored by the American Study League, with Bob Norton the local representative. Norton has recently moved from Pacifica to San Bruno. The League, a subsidiary of the Readers Digest, sponsors study tours of students from many countries.

Harbor Meeting on Aug. 22

The San Mateo County Harbor District will face proposed detachment of San Bruno and three separate districts at the Aug. 22 Local Agency Formation Commission hearing.

The proposed detachment of the latter three (Ladera Recreation District, Menlo Park Sanitary District, and Skyline County Water District) is "ridiculous" according to Harbor District Counsel James Dennis.

"These districts have no relationship with the Harbor District," he said. "It's like trying to detach a Pescadero water district from the harbor district because we don't supply enough water."

Dennis' comments were received by Harbor District Commissioners Frank Lee, Jr., Alf Carstens and Wallace Cooper, at the monthly district meeting Thursday in the IDES Hall, Half Moon Bay.

At the LAFCO hearing, the district expects a decision on whether or not five other cities and a recreation district will be allowed to detach from the harbor district. Detachment proposals revolve around plans to improve Pillar Point Harbor.

Commissioners accepted proposals from Williams, Kuebelbeck and Associates, the Redwood City firm that is preparing a feasibility study on the expansion of Oyster Point Marina, South San Francisco.

The engineering firm of Koebig & Koebig reported its latest work toward obtaining encroachment permits in the potential use of state-owned El Granada Quarry in the Harbor's Development Project.

Sewerage Grant OK

A $2,505,000 federal grant to finance a three-mile sewer line to deliver Burlingame and Millbrae sewage to South San Francisco has been approved by the federal government.

Burlingame City Mgr. Charles Schwalm reported he had been notified by Congressman Leo Ryan's office that the money to build a joint Burlingame-Millbrae sewage outfall line had been approved.

Schwalm said he was hopeful that contracts would soon be let, and the work could proceed under a joint powers agreement which has already been executed.

Negotiations between the Two cities, and with South San Francisco, San Bruno, and San Francisco International Airport, have been under way since the Bay Area Sewer Systems Commission ordered creation of a joint deepwater outfall line to serve the area.

S.S.F. Burglary

Perry L. Rist, manager of an apartment complex on Dundee Way, in South San Francisco, reported to police Monday that burglars had broken into his apartment and stolen $185 in cash and a camera.

He and his wife were out for the day shopping, he added.

$50 Million Waste Water Plan Told

Implementation of a $50 million waste water quality management program within the next four years to provide for treatment and disposal of San Mateo County sewage through the year 2000 was recommended to the Board of Supervisors last week in a report prepared by the consulting engineering firm of Jenks and Adamson.

The $80,000 study was financed by the county, the state and 31 sewering agencies which are expected to participate in the county-wide plan.

John Jenks, head of the consulting firm, said the county plan is expected to become an integral part of the final plan which will be developed to provide sewage treatment and disposal for nine Bay Area counties under auspices of the Bay Area Sewer Agency (BASA).

Jenks reported that the proposed plan would provide for an increase of San Mateo County sewage for treatment and disposal from the present 55 million gallons a day to anywhere from 66 to 92 million gallons per day, depending on the county population by the year 2000.

Jenks said it is expected that up to 87½ per cent of the development costs can be financed by federal and state grants, leaving a total of some $6,100,000 to be financed locally.

It is proposed, Jenks stated, to provide six major system units to serve the south bayside, the central bayside, the north bayside, the north coastside, the Pacifica system and the central coastside, all of which would provide discharge either into the bay or the ocean following secondary treatment.

A south coastside system would discharge onto the land, and a Brisbane-Guadalupe Valley system (including San Bruno Mountain) is recommended for consolidation of treatment with the city of San Francisco.

Jenks emphasized that creation of the new program will entail consolidation and improvement of current treatment facilities in the various cities and sanitation districts.

The time schedule for implementing the program is recommended in the report as follows:

South Bayside (Redwood City, San Carlos, Belmont, Menlo Park Sanitary District) — 1974-75.

Central Bayside (San Mateo, Foster City) — 1973-75.

North Bayside (South San Francisco, San Bruno, San Francisco International Airport, Millbrae, Merck Chemical Co., Burlingame) — 1975-76.

North Coastside (North San Mateo County Sanitation District) — 1973-74.

Pacifica — 1973-74.

Central Coastside (Montara Sanitary District, Granada Sanitary District, Half Moon Bay) — 1973-75.

Jenks reported that a program for wastewater reclamation will be instituted in conjunction with the treatment and disposal project.

He noted in the report that although county sewering agencies have an "enviable history" of providing sewage treatment and disposal necessary to protect the water environment of the bay and the ocean, the majority of present facilities are inadequate to meet the recently established long-range water quality objectives and requirements of the state and federal governments.

In order to meet the objectives, the study has taken into account not only treatment and disposal, but other objectives of reliability, flexibility, reclamation, regional planning, environmental impact and cost effectiveness, Jenks reported.

Jenks said that today's presentation was not the final report, which will be completed by Oct. 15. Meanwhile, he reported, he will appear before the Regional Water Quality Control Board Aug. 28 to seek acceptance of the program. If accepted, the plan will then be submitted to the State Water Resources Control Bord.

Hopefully, Jenks stated, when the final report returns to the Board of Supervisors for action in October it will have the recommendation of the regional and state boards.

JESD Gets Trimmed Budget

A near-final budget for the school year 1973-74 was presented to the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees by temporary business agent John Lynch last week.

Lynch's admitted free use of a red pencil has resulted in trimming the $10 million-plus budget by some $100,000.

He said he has hopes of being able to cut out another $100,000 before the final budget is approved by the school board and sent to the San Mateo County Superintendent of Schools Office before the Aug. 10 deadline.

Chairman Mrs. Dorothy Adams praised Lynch for his efforts on behalf of the district and commended both him and the acting superintendent, Keith Breon "for being able to come up with this revised budget in only two weeks."

It was some three weeks ago that the majority members of the school board — Adams, Beverly Forrester and David Parker — fired Supt. Frank L. Greenwood and Roger Barthulio, a Greenwood aide.

Breon said, following the school board meeting, that he was "holding out hope" that teachers may get a pay raise this year. How much he did not say. However, there were indications the raise would not be less than 4 per cent.

The declining student enrollment picture in the district has presented the JESD with a very bleak financial outlook for this year. Lynch, on leave from the Millbrae School District, told the board.

In the past three years the district has lost some 2,000 students.

"We are still refining this budget," Lynch said, noting that "additional incomes (from the state) may yet be uncovered."

But these additional sources of revenue must be used for special projects and cannot be applied to employe salary increases, Breon explained.

Some 83 per cent of the JESD budget, as in other school districts, goest to employe salaries, it was explained.

Living in their new San Carlos home after a honeymoon in Hawaii are Dennis Gori and his bride, the former Deborah Ann Bocci, who were married at Holy Angels Church in Colma. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Bocci of Colma. Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Gori of San Leandro.

HAPPY 90TH BIRTHDAY to Mrs. Sarah Pamela. A four-generation family get-together celebrated the event, with family members coming from as far as New York and from throughout California to honor Mrs. Pamela. The celebration started at 10:30 a.m. and continued to 5:30 p.m. in Junipero Serra Park in San Bruno. It was complete with an outdoor steak barbecue. Mrs. Pamela is described by her family as "one of the loveliest, most independent ladies, who still does her own housework and insists on living alone." Among local relatives is her daughter, Mrs. Louis Borelli of Daly City. (Times Photo)

Honeymoon For Couple

Honeymooning in Hawaii are Lance E. Williams and his bride, the former Bonnie J. Brosamle, who exchanged vows at noon Saturday at the First United Presbyterian Church in San Francisco.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brosamle of San Francisco. A graduate of Abraham Lincoln High School, she is employed at the Fort Miley Veterans Hospital.

Lance is the son of Mrs. Elyn Williams of Pacifica. An alumnus of Capuchino High School, he is a service engineer and is affiliated with the Tiburon Ski Dive Club of San Mateo.

Bonnie asked Karen Anderson to be her maid of honor. Secondary attendants were Deborah and Denise Shade.

Bob Shade stood with Lance as best man. Ushers were Mike Shade and Rick VanAken.

Imediately following the ceremony, the newlyweds greeted guests at a reception at the Ranch Inn at Serramonte Shopping Center. They will make their first home in Daly City.

Leadership

FT. LEWIS, Wash. — Cadet John L. Grandsaert, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse R. Grandsaert, 3523 Glenwood Avenue, Redwood City, is receiving practical work in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Lewis, Wash., from 8 June —19 July.

Cadet Grandsaert, a student at the University of San Francisco, is one of some 7,200 students attending Army ROTC training at five installations in the U.S.

Diane R. Dyer and Richard J. Ragni Jr. were married at the Chapel at Treasure Island. The couple honeymooned at the Russian River and is now living in South San Francisco. Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Dyer of Pacifica, and Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ragni of Millbrae.

Gas Stockpile

The Pacifica Fire Department has issued a warning on the hazards of individuals "stockpiling" gasoline in the face of impending fuel shortages.

Fire Marshal Ken Curtis pointed out that the Pacifica Fire Prevention Code prohibits homeowners from storing more than one gallon of gasoline in private garages.

"Quantities exceeding one gallon (not including vehicles) can be legally stored only with permit from the Fire Department," Curtis said.

Curtis also stated, "The dangerous combination of flammable liquids, water heaters, furnaces and other flame producing devices that are normally found in most garages is a major cause of dwelling fires where many thousands of lives are lost annually."

The Saturday, August 18 test for both day and evening college students will be at 8 a.m. in the administration building (Bldg. 1, room 131). The Tuesday, August 21 test will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the same place.

The college's admission-records office is open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. to answer any questions about the placement test and registration procedures.

The cultures of Hawaii, Tahiti, Japan, El Slavadore, Samoa, Guam and The Philippines will be examined by 132 local girls learning the songs, games and dances of these countries.

EXOTIC FOOD will be prepared over campfires as girls make homemade tortillas, eat Japanese food and poi as part of their learning experience, exploring the wide variety of the South Sea countries.

RESIN TIKI'S, raffia baskets, string art, plaster sand casting, sand pictures, paper flowers and leis, necklaces from ordinary objects, metal art, clam shell gardens, water candles and tie-dyeing will be supervised by Mesdames Elaine McDowell and Virginia Rusting of the program department.

Last year's Daly City day camp theme "America the Beautiful" served as a model for a council-wide, summer-long resident camp at the Bothin Youth Center this year, according to Bothin director and fie'd staff member Mrs. Virginia Hubbell.

BROWNIE TROOP 2791 enjoyed a day swimming party in Sonoma last week, led by Mesdames Robert Gorrebeeck and Louis Giusti.

PIXIES, the "child care" unit at Daly City's Girl Scout day camp will be led this year by Mrs. Mary Tschirgi with senior and cadettes aides.

David Schwarzbach, Kevin Knox, Brian Unger, Yvette Scott, Joey Roth, Holly Figone, Michael Rusting, Timmy Thurman, Penny Law, Lorelei Morino, Susan Roth and Anthony Klatt will wear the multi-colored scarves of the Pixie unit.

APPRECIATION CERTIFICATES were awarded to three North County adult Girl Scouts at a recent ceremony by the Daly City Association, led by Mrs. Margaret Connolly.

Mrs. Carl Klatt, jamoree, camporee and day camp director, was cited for "quiet determination to provide the best possible camping programs for girls, adding to the strength of their camping experiences."

MRS. LOIS MANBERT was honored for reinforcing the values of scouting by donating hours of service to her community and enriching the lives of girls and adults whom she meets.

AL SCHWARZBACH, local Scout membership and fund-raising expert, was cited for his "ability to improve the quality and quantity of scouting throughout the years, becomes a true 'Friend of Scouting.'"

Skyline Offers New Programs

While the doors and classes for the fall term at Skyline College will not be officially open or begin until Tuesday, September 11, a number of important programs and activities already are underway on the North San Mateo County campus.

Student counseling-advising will begin Monday, August 20 for new, incoming freshman students and June 1973 high school graduates. This program will be under direction of Rex Butler, admissions-records dean, and James C. Wyatt, dean of students. The college's counseling-advising department and the college administration will welcome new students and helping them plan their programs for the forthcoming semester.

Wyatt stated that those who have not secured a counseling appointment or have not completed the registration-admission procedures should contact the college's admission office or student counseling office, phone 355-7000, extension 251 or 355-7000, extension 314 Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., or write to Skyline College, care of admissions-records office.

Cross country coach Bob Laulhati and soccer coach Norm Friedeberg currently are in the process of planning these two intercollegiate sports activities in preparation for their official practice opening session on Tuesday, Sept. 4. However, both fall term sports tutors urged that those athletes who have not contacted them for the fall term can do so by calling the college at 355-7000, extension 271-272 or 273 daily 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The college's Associated Student Body government already is planning a large activity and involvement schedule according to Joaquin "Babe" Herrero, student activities advisor, and Jerry Kopp, ASB president.

There are some student council positions open and activities for those students interested in the college's varied plans for the semester. Information about these may be had by calling the student activities office, 355-7000, extension 317.

The Skyline Press, the college's official newspaper, will be published and distributed on the first day of classes. Staff members currently are meeting to plan for the first issue for Tuesday, September 11. Students interested in newspaper journalism, newspaper photography and cartoon art can secure information about the college's journalism program by calling the Skyline Press at 355-7000, extension 321 or 287, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

It seems most of the dessert recipes featured here are of a quantity to feed four to six and sometimes more. However, I know there are many people cooking for two, so here are some twosome recipes.

PIE IS A GREAT favorite in most families. Whether it's apple, peach, chocolate or cherry, pie makes a very tasty treat. Now for the method of baking pie for a small family.

Instead of baking a whole pie, make half a pie. Form one layer of pie dough into a pie pan, spread half-way with fruit, fold the uncovered pie dough over the filling, flute and bake.

THE PRODUCE counters are bulging with peaches these days, so why not bake a peach pie?

1½ cups sifted flour

PEACH PIE FOR TWO

½ cup shortening
1½ cups sifted flour
teaspoon salt
2 to 3 tablespoons water
1½ cups fresh peach slices
½ cup sugar (less if you like your pies more tart)
1 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
Butter or margarine

Sift the one and one-half cups flour with the one teaspoon salt into a bowl. Cut in the half cup shortening with a pastry blender or two knives until mixture is the consistency of corn meal. Sprinkle cold water, a little at a time, over different parts of flour mixture. Toss together lightly with a fork. (Use as little water as possible, just enough to moisten so the dough will form into a ball.) Place on waxed paper, knead three times. Press gently with waxed paper into a ball. Let stand at room temperature for 15 minutes. Lightly flour pastry cloth or board and covered rolling pin. Roll dough into 10-inch circle, one-eighth of an inch thick. Fold pastry in half, place in pan and unfold. Fit pastry in pan but do not stretch pastry.

SPOON the one and one-half cups sliced peaches over one-half pie dough. Combine the one-half cup sugar and one and one-half tablespoons tapioca and pour over peaches. Dot filling with butter. To form half pie, fold uncovered pie dough over filling. Seal edges together with water. Form rim and flute the edge. Cut three slits in top crust for vents. Bake at 375 degrees 30 to 35 minutes, or until nicely browned. Cool on cake rack.

APPLE PIE FOR TWO

3 apples
one-third cup sugar
dash salt
1 Tablespoon quick-cooking tapioca
Butter or margarine
Uncooked pie crust.

Prepare crust as directed on peach pie. Pare and slice the three apples. Combine one-third cup sugar and one tablespoon tapioca and salt and mix with apples. Place apples in half of pie crust, dot with butter and fold dough over top and flute. Cut slits in top. Bake in 375-degree oven 40 to 45 minutes or until apples are tender and crust nicely browned.

ACTUALLY THIS NEXT recipe makes a cake for two, if the two are having company for dessert. It makes a nine-inch square cake that's delicious, keeps well and makes a tasty dessert for packed lunches.

DATE AND NUT CAKE

6½ oz. package dates, finely cut (about 1¼ cups)
1 cup hot water
¼ cup butter or shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
one and three-fourths cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Heat oven to 350 degrees (moderate). Grease well and flour a 9 by 9-inch pan.

Pour the one cup hot water over the one and one-fourth cups dates. Set aside to cool. Combine the fourth cup shortening, one cup sugar, one egg and one tespoon vanilla in mixing bowl. Beat five minutes at high speed.

Sift together the one and three-fourths cake flour, one teaspoon soda and one-half teaspoon salt. On low speed, add alternately with date mixture to creamed mixture. Add in four parts, starting and ending with dry ingredients. Blend just until smooth. Add nuts. Bake 40 to 45 minutes in 350-degree oven.

When cool, top with a light sifting of powdered sugar.

Await Word On Grant

Pacifica's City Mgr. David Thompson reported Thursday that he is awaiting a written report from the Metropolitan Transportation Commission before protesting the grant of only half of what he had requested for starting up a city transit system.

Pacifica had received a $217,000 grant, it was learned last Friday. However, Thompson said yesterday, "it was just verbal" so that he is not sure what the conditions of the grant were.

If it turns out that Pacifica can obtain no more than $217,000, he said, then he felt that the city could still provide an excellent bus service for that amount. To that amount may be added some $35,000 now in Pacifica's city budget as a subsidy for the "Little Red Bus" line, he said.

The major event of the year for the Westlake Catholic Women is the Spring Festival, a four day extravaganza that pulls the entire Our Lady of Mercy parish together in a gigantic fun and fund raising event that is without equal in this area, according to Mrs. James McCann, the retiring publicity chairman.

THE SECOND Monday of each month the Westlake Catholic Women meet to conduct the business of the organization and throughout the year some work is underway to prepare for the festival, staged in conjunction with the Westlake Catholic men in the parish hall.

While the Westlake Catholic Women have several events for which they are totally resposible during the year, it is the festival that most completely meets the goal of promoting and increasing interest in the parish and the community for the festival not only draws people of the parish, but many Catholics and non-Catholics from the entire northern Peninsula area, who long have made it a tradition to visit the festival, shop for bargains and enjoy the games and fun.

DESPITE THE FACT the festival is the event which receives a major portion of the attention and publicity, many other worthwhile projects are undertaken annually by the parish's women's group. There is an Italian Night, a Day at the Races, cookie and candy sale, a New Year's eve party, a sodality installation breakfast, rummage sale and an elegant fashion show presented in the grand ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel. In March the Westlake Catholic Women present a St. Patrick's Day dinner dance complete with Irish step dancers, there is a crab cioppino feed and an evening of recollection, the Westlake Catholic Women's installation breakfast and a similar event for the Westlake Catholic Men.

It is a busy agenda of activities and there is more than enough work to keep the more than 600 members interested and busy.

ON TOP OF THE parish activities the members actively are working on a philanthropic program which includes assistance to Girl Scout and Boy Scout units, the Catholic Charities and providing area captains for such drives as the March of Dimes, the Heart Fund, the Cancer Fund and, prior to the establishment of the local facility for Mary's Help Hospital, the organization was active in working to bring the hospital to this area.

Despite the heavy work load of this particular group, all meetings are not devoted entirely to administrative matters. Some months there are guest speakers, at Christmas time the children of the primary grades of the parish school put on a Christmas play and, from time to time, the drama students from the eighth grade class put on skits.

MRS. FRANCIS KELLY, the newly elected president of the Westlake Catholic Women, hopes to continue the new Ladies Luncheon League afternoon that was introduced during the term of Mrs. John Kachur and to introduce some exciting new events designed to increase the range of interests for the members and to maintain the vitality of the overall program.

Mrs. Kelly brings to her new post the experience gained from a long and active participation in the Westlake Catholic Women and on the board of St. Ignatius High school. Assisting her during the coming months will be Mrs. John Loughran, vice president; Mrs. William Arata, treasurer; Mrs. Keith Wenquist, secretary; Mrs. William Schou, publicity; Mrs. Julian Fernando, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Richard Mudge, first director; Mrs. Peter Balestrieri, second director; Mrs. Albert Modena, third director; Mrs. Sebastian Passanissi, fourth director; Mrs. Joseph Vollert, historian; and Mrs. Robert Cantwell will be charged with the chairmanship of the ACCW effort.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. McCann, joining is very simple. Any woman interested in being a part of this group is invited to attend any of the regular meetings and sign up. Membership in the Catholic Church is not required.

BOY SCOUT Troop 182 of Daly City is unpacking its gear after its week-long camping jaunt to Camp Kit Carson in the high Sierras. Showing some of their equipment upon their return here are left to right, Gary Racine and Michael Hinojos, with Robert Herz, committee chairman and assistant campmaster, standing behind. Brisbane Wins on San Bruno Mountain Annex

Concurring in the recommendation of the County Local Agency Formation Commission, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors voted Tuesday to establish a county service district to provide all needed services, including planning, for the Bruno Mountain unincorporated area recommended for eventual annexation to the town of Brisbane.

Objections to the action were expressed by the City of Daly City, which has filed a lawsuit challenging the service district and the Brisbane annexation.

Daly City wants the mountain annexed to that community.

Although the county and the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) must appear in court Aug. 22 to uphold the action delegating the sphere of influence to Brisbane and creation of the service district, Chief Civil Deputy District Attorney L. M. Summey informed the board that "the court has not precluded you from holding hearings on establishing the service area."

Furthermore, Summey said, it is within the power of the board to establish the scope of services.

The board overruled protests of Daly City Atty. Albert Polonsky, who asked that the hearing be postponed pending outcome of the court action, and City Mgr. David R. Rowe, who protested the creation of "another government unit" and contended that Daly City could provide the necessary planning and capital improvements at a less cost than a service district.

Citing a report made for the city, Rowe said that of 12 alternatives noted, the creation of a county service district was 11th on the list. (The 12th was expansion of the Guadalupe Valley Municipal Improvement District to encompass the development.)

Rowe contended that annexation of the mountain property (the area on which development is proposed, not the park or open space area) would permit a reduction of the city's tax rate from $1.90 per $100 of assessed valuation of $1.01.

Furthermore, the city manager contended, the service district would be accruing all of the income from the district and then would suddenly turn over the mountain to Brisbane, which would not have the revenues to provide necessary services.

Also, Rowe maintained, county planning for the mountain would be a "remote function" in comparison to planning by Daly City, which is right next door.

Brisbane City Councilman Julius Stern, who said he was speaking on behalf of all the council, commented that, "Brisbane needs that mountain."

"We need the development," Stern said, "otherwise we are out of business. I'm a union man, and we're opposed to delaying tactics. The only reason we're here today is because Daly City didn't get it. Let's get going. It means thousands of jobs."

County Manager M. D. Tarshes, who recommended establishing of the county service area, emphasized that he was not trying to render a judgment on the LAFCO acton, but just trying to assure that the county is paid for costs of a service district.

He estimated that the planning phase for the mountain property will require 30 months and entail a cost of $150,000, with a tax rate of $1 for the first two years and a rate of 25 cents for the final period to be assessed in the district.

Polonsky challenged Tarshes' contention that a service district would be in existence for only two or three years, contending that the developer, Crocker Land Company, has indicated a minimum of 10 years for development of the property involved.

In moving for acceptance of Tarshes for formation of the service area, Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald noted that "anything we do will be reviewed by the courts."

The board also accepted a recommendation by Summey that an environmental impact report concerning implications of formation of the county service area be prepared and submitted "at the earliest possible time."

Endorsing formation of the service area were Frank Calton, spokesman for the Crocker Land Co., and Bette Higgins representing the Save San Bruno Mountain Committee.

The Daly City Rotary Club will be host to the new District 513 governor, John K. Withers of Santa Rosa, at its August 15 meeting at Ranch Inn. Before his address to the club, Withers will confer with the Club President Stan Breier, club secretary Max Kurtz and other officers at a club assembly where facilities of Rotary International and District 513 will be reviewed in relation to the club plans and projects for the year.

Petition OK In Pacifica

The Rockaway Highlands referendum petition easily qualified for the Nov. 6 ballot, Pacifica City Mgr. David Morrison reported Thursday.

San Mateo County registration clerks stopped validating names when they passed the 2,600 mark. Only 10 per cent of the registered voters is needed to put the measure on the ballot — or 1,400 names. A total of 4,000 names was handed in by Sandy Demarco, president of the Ridgeline Homeowners Assn., last week.

The United Citizens of Pacifica, petition sponsors, objected to rezoning of the 336-acre hillside tract to provide for an 807-unit development, on the basis of too great density and too much traffic on Fassler Drive.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD ★ JOHNSON

Airport Plaza Hotel Features Big Bands Aug. 11

You and your friends are invited to attend a dance at the Airport Plaza Hotel, in Millbrae, Saturday night, August 11. Lou Moretton of San Bruno will be your host, and he will feature two great bands, with continuous music. Harry Mason, well known in the greater Bay Area, will play ballroom and Latin music; Jeff Hughes will entertain with swing. "This is a first on the West Coast, to my knowledge," says Lou. The Arthritis Foundation will receive fifty per cent of the net profits. So join the evening of fun and at the same time know you are helping someone in need. Also featured will be a fox trot and swing contest, with fifty dollars in cash being given away. "Put some fun in your life — go dancing." . . . If you think all potatoes taste the same, try Chef Jack Hunter's "Ana Potatoes" at the Shirt Tail, in Palo Alto. They are sliced, cooked in a savory herb broth with butter, then baked. Delicious! . . . Frank and Fannie Torres, who operate Torres Beach restaurant in Montara (just south of Devil's Slide on Coast Highway One), continue to specialize in South American dishes. Their Papas Relleno, a south-of-the-border concoction that must be tasted to be believed (for it is a unique dining experience), remains the highlight of the massive Torres menu.

SINGING ARTISTS — The Murphys, Jimmy and Julie, entertain with solos, duets, rock, ballads and novelty numbers in the Golden Rooster Lounge at Rodeway Inn, South San Francisco. They also have a great line of patter. Television personalities from Australia, The Murphys have performed many times at Gogan's in Honolulu.

Park Avenue Tours Offers The Ultimate In Travel

Summer fun is a specialty at South Lake Tahoe, and Park Avenue Tours has the "key" to all transportation. If you're driving up, be the recipient of a $10 refund value. There is also a bonus refund for the overnight Greyhound One-nighters and Two-nighters. Park Avenue Tours' daily Greyhound buses, called "Turnarounds," also offer bonuses. All this, plus "Entertainment the Nevada Way," is good reason why Park Avenue Tours is a leader in the field of travel. When packaging a tour, remember that Park Avenue Tours arranges charters anywhere, anytime, anyplace . . . The Penguin Lounge has really made an impact on the Peninsula. Owned by Angelo Lena, who first made it big in the night club business in San Francisco, the Burlingame bistro has caught on as the "in spot" for dancing and entertainment, which is provided by Mickey Frizzell. The club's unique decor (designed by Jack Menzies) speaks for itself . . . A specialty item at Russo's Distillery is the Spinach Salad. It is so well known that the majority of diners at this San Bruno restaurant always favor it when ordering one of the deluxe dinners. Just one example of Owner Vince Russo's firm belief in providing his guests with what they want.

Prime Rib At Saluto's Special

Monday and Tuesday are prime rib nights at Saluto's in Burlingame. Featured are tender and juicy 14-15 ounce cuts of the eye of the rib with all fat trimmed away . . . Scampi Bordelaise remains as one of the jewels in the culinary crown of Chef George Bollag at L'Auberge in Atherton. It's no wonder that this is one of the most sought-after dishes at the plush French restaurant. Start with a Fresh Spinach Salad, a bottle of Puligny Montrachet. Finish with Fresh Strawberries Romanoff or an airy Souffle Grand Marnier . . . Dave Rasmussen, owner of the Shadows of San Mateo, was recently working at the bar and telling a few of his regular patrons how he was leasing out part of his big ranch in Eastern Oregon. The company who leased the pasture (mostly grazing land) has over 1,000 Mexican steers contentedly munching grass. This inspired Darcy's Tom McNamara, who is tuned in to the younger generation, to quip that they must be having one great time . . . Jim Dahl, new general manager of the food and beverage operation at Royal Inn, South San Francisco, says the Lost Knight Lounge will continue to feature live entertainment and dancing. Now appearing Tuesdays through Saturdays is Wood 'n' Springs, a folksinging duo. The Lost Knight is also open for lunch Monday through Friday, with a Steak Sandwich being the star attraction.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Nick Gust Has Surprise In Store For Diners Out

Big news from Nick Gust: The former Mayor of Pacifica — and the squire of two restaurants and a motel in Rockaway Beach, will soon unveil another restaurant. After looking it over, your Bright Lighter can freely say that it will be one of the best of its kind (this, of course, is a Gust habit). The new restaurant and cocktail lounge will be entirely different from his popular Moonraker and Nick's restaurants. More news on this just before the opening date, which is still pending . . . Sudden thought: Did you know that one ostrich egg is the equivalent of two dozen chicken eggs? Which brings to mind: Whenever you're in ostrich country, specify chicken eggs when ordering "Scramble two." . . . Phil Lehr may be the "Steak King," but we'll let you in on a secret: Phil is also a hamburger fan and can be found during almost any of his free time waiting in line to be served at one of the nearby McDonald's Hamburger spots. Yep, he goes for the works — French fries and the apple turnovers . . .

"Alexander's Band" Finocchio's Spectacular

A real show-stopper in Finocchio's summer revue, which is a salute to Broadway composers of the past, is "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Emcee Carroll Wallace sings and struts, with the spectators lending their voices to make it a thrilling event. It's a spectacular number with scanty costumes and eye-popping hats three feet tall . . . Vic Scafani, who is a co-owner with John Graziano of Woodlake Joe's and the Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco, is still much enthused over the response to the "remodeled" dinner menu at the Brentwood Lodge, which also comes highly recommended for its excellent facilities for banquets, wedding receptions and garden parties. At Woodlake Joe's, located in the Woodlake Shopping Center, San Mateo, there are daily Italian specialties which are creating much comment. . . . If it's a savings on pizza you're looking for, clip the Red Carpet Pizza and Hot Dog advertisement in today's Bright Lights. With the coupon and when ordering a pizza "to go," you can save from 25 cents to 75 cents. This take-out pizza offer expires August 18.

Whiskey Hill Group In Concert Sunday

Due to popular demand, Dick Volonte, manager of Whiskey Hill, has brought Bishop back to headline nightly, Tuesdays through Saturdays, in the downtown Burlingame club for a limited engagement. Madness, a fabulous group, is slated for the Sunday night concert Sunday, August 12. Butch Whacks and The Glass Packs will return for the Sunday concert of August 19. . . . Only a few days remaining to register for the "Disneyland Family Vacation" offered by the nine Garden Restaurants located on the lower level of San Bruno's Tanforan Park Shopping Center. The free holiday, for a family of five, includes three days and two nights at the famed Southern California playground, plus air transportation. There is nothing to purchase. Ask for contest rules and entry blanks at any of the nine Garden Restaurants. . . . Tom Loren Bocci is the new manager at Martinelli's Steak Pit in Millbrae. Tom, no stranger to the food industry, promises to continue providing patrons with the best possible meats, at even lower prices. . . . Arby's (in Millbrae, South San Francisco, San Jose, Sunnyvale, and Mountain View) is offering a Roast Beef Dinner for 99 cents which includes roast beef sandwich, French fries, and salad. The special is served from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. seven days a week.

Live Entertainment Now At The Whistle Stop

The Cast is the trio recently signed by Leo Martay to provide the music on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at his Whistle Stop. Live entertainment is proving to be a big hit at this lively Belmont spot. When asked why he waited so long to offer live music, Leo readily explains that it was just a matter of finding the right group. When you finish your meal, stick around and hear the entertainment. The Whistle Stop is now open all night on Thursday, Friday and Saturday . . . Scrap Iron has returned to Abbey Road, and the rockin' Burlingame nitery is again wall-to-wall with their fans. Plenty of dance action every night with Scrap Iron on tap Tuesdays through Saturdays . . . The Sunday Brunch featured at Frank Martinelli's Tiki Garden, located by the Parkside Lagoon in San Mateo, 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., is an "All you can eat" affair. It includes almost every brunch-type item imaginable. Children even receive a free gift from the Captain's Chest. Afternoon patrons can also enjoy the blue grass sounds of the Yankee Hill String Band.

Out-of-State Licenses For Scotty Campbell's

Mary Lou Fox, co-owner of Scotty Campbell's restaurant, says business has been excellent during the summer months. Visitors from all over the country are flocking here to enjoy the congenial atmosphere and menu specialties. If you're among those attending performances at nearby Circle Star Theater, inform your waitress so she may serve you efficiently yet without rush in order that you reach the theater before curtain time. This distinguished Redwood City restaurant is a popular dining target for both entertainers and theater-goers . . . Enrico Romano, owner and operator of Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, specializes in pizzas as well as full-course Italian dinners. In fact, Romano is famed on the Coastside for his small, medium and large cheese-covered treats. People have driven from all over the Bay Area to try them . . . An ideal place to hold sales meetings, office parties, wedding receptions or any festive occasion in the Iron Horse restaurant on San Francisco's famous Maiden Lane. Owner Sam Marconi will be happy to make any special arrangements your group may require.

To Paris Via Burlingame

The extensive list of entrees at Le Parisien, a transition from Burlingame to Paris, include the superb Fondu Bourguignonne (tender pieces of filet — you cook yourself at the table). Desserts are delightful, typical of France, whether you crave Peche Melba with brandied sauce or the dramatically prepared Souffle au grand Marnier for Two (only on request — with 12 hours notice). Not open Mondays and Tuesdays . . . Mike Quivey, food and beverage director at the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, is back at his post after enjoying a short vacation. It was a definite change of scenery for the Quiveys this vacation-time. Idaho was the destination; fishing the game. Drop by for the Sunday Buffet-Brunch in the Royal Hall dining room — it's fantastic! . . . How about a free watermelon feast this Sunday? No problem, set your sights for The Vista del Mar in Woodside, where a Sunday Barbecue is a $2.95 feature. Also menued are steaks, lobster and prime rib. An added attraction each Saturday and Sunday is an old-fashioned Country Breakfast. For further information, call Al King (you guessed it — he's the popular entertainment scout and agent) or Tom Minaidis . . . .

Channing 9 Wins Title

Channing Fund won the first annual Sports Association of Northern California Recreation Agencies women's softball tournament in Pacifica last week.

Channing took San Carlos Sheet Metal 10-4 in the final. Tournament results, starting with the opener:

S.C. Sheet Metal 18, Hefner's 6. Lynn Landini collected five hits and Jenny Strauss four hits including a home run and a triple to lead San Carlos Sheet Metal over Hefner's in the first round of the tournament.

Sharon Swam of S.C. Sheet Metal also hit a home run and Kathy Olson had three singles in the leadoff spot. Patty Sukosky drilled a home run and Sheryl Peterson blasted a triple for Hefner's.

Jerry Byrd 26, Rely Construction 10. Sheila Colombana got six hits cinluding a home run as Jerry Byrd routed Rely Construction. But Sheila did not provide all the offensive power as Renee Griffen and Dora Maldrow also added homers for Jerry Byrd. Linda Welch provided Rely Contruction fans with some excitement when she powered a grand slam home run in the fifth inning but it was far too late.

Channing Fund 4, Ski and Dive 0. In what was perhaps the best ballgame of the afternoon Channing Fund played flawless defense to beat Ski and Dive. At bat Sherry Garner exploded for a home run while Candie Pastore, Diane Pierce and Doren Daneri each had two hits for Channing Fund. Offensively Ski and Dive could only get five hits but they too played excellent defense.

S.C. Sheet Metal 11, Jerry Byrd 9. San Carlos scored five times in the last inning to overtake the strong Jerry Byrd team. Shortstop Jenny Strauss led the San Carlos assault with four hits and Sharon Swan hit her second home run of the day. Carmen Ynostroza hit a home run for Jerry Byrd.

Channing Fund 10, S.C. Sheet Metal 4. Candie Pastore, Sharon Casidy and Pauline McKenzie each had two hits as Channing Fund beat S.C. Sheet Metal for the tournament championship. The game was close until the sixth inning when Channing Fund scored seven runs. Simone Suggs ripped a home run and Jenny Strauss got three more hits for the Sheet Metalers.

The Same

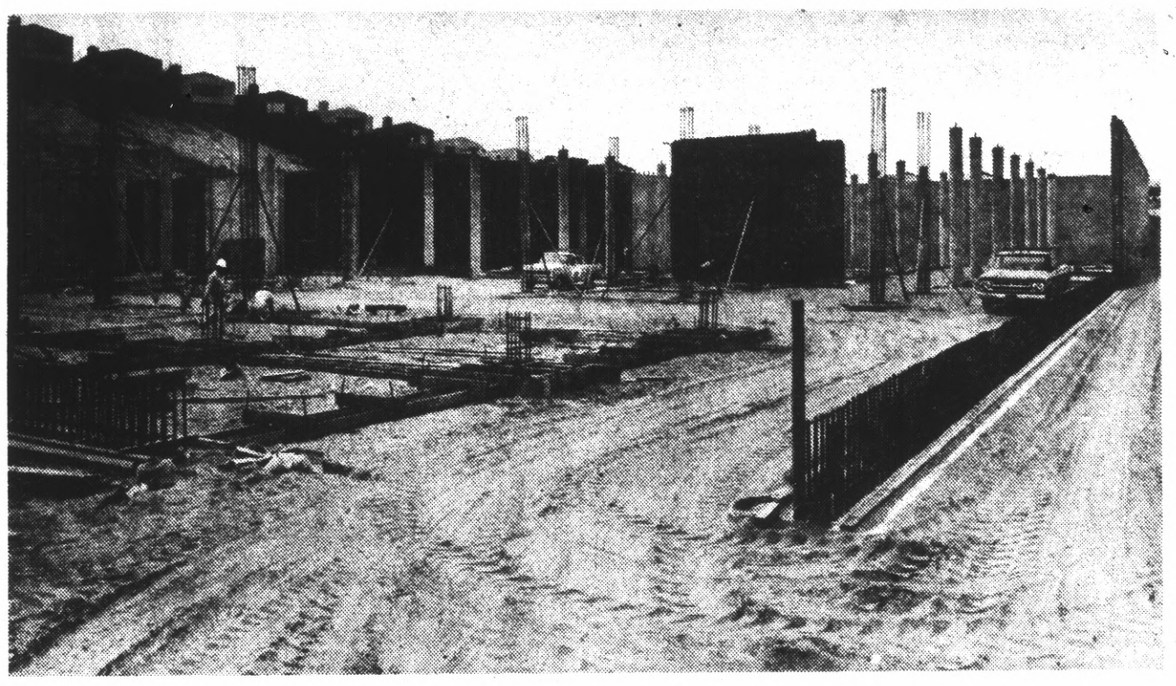
BACK WHEN I WAS YOUR AGE, SON, about 30 years ago, we had it tough. The government was giving priorities to gasoline users because there was a shortage of fuel. And if you were lucky enough to get a piece of beef from the local market the operator charged you all getout. Bacon was rationed and so was bread, because of the wheat shortage. Restaurants jacked up prices to keep pace with the higher cost trends and meat shortage and it was a rare day indeed when a family got to travel anywhere for fear they wouldn't have enough gasoline to drive back home. Almost sounds like today!

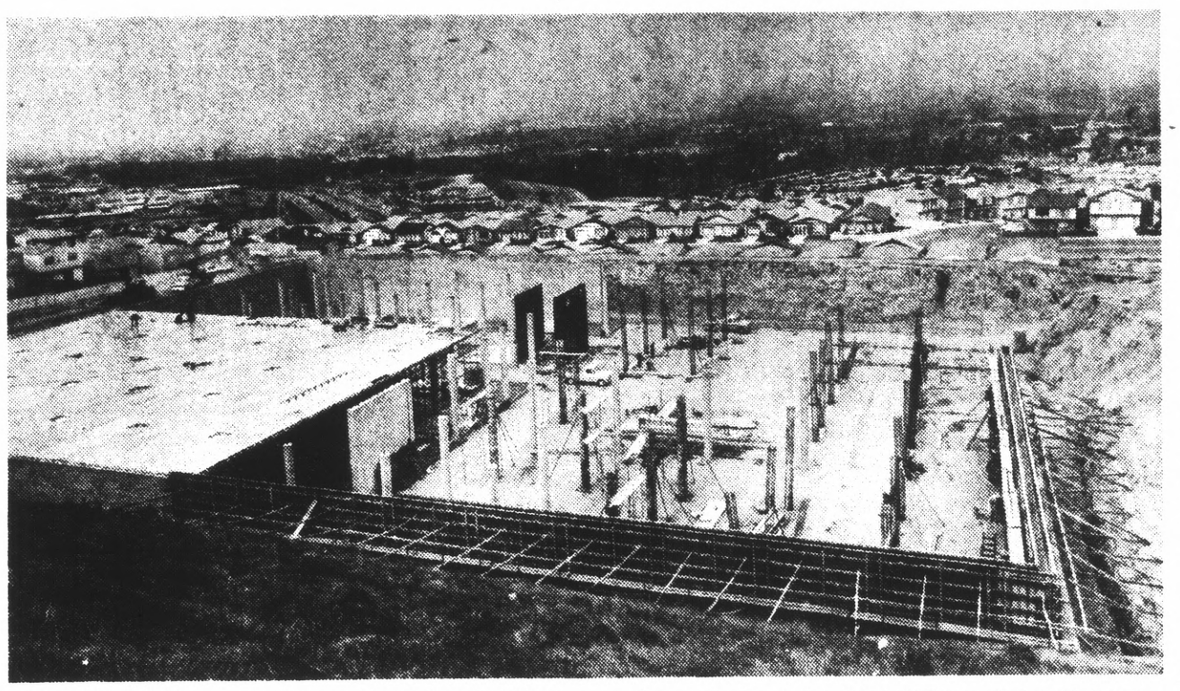
WHO'S WHERE AND WHY? — Assemblyman Lou Papan and wife Irene back from vacation in his hometown of Springfield, Mass. That's where Lou got his start some 40 odd years ago — shining shoes in a local pub . . . Former councilman Frank Pacelli, back on his feet after a recent heart attack, off to Maui, Hawaii for R&R . . . D.C. Councilman Bud Lycett and wife Bunny out of the fog for vacation in sunny Marin County . . . Cong. Leo Ryan scheduled to be in town (San Bruno) next week. He'll be staying in his new digs at Shelter Creek.

WE'D LIKE TO THINK it is because of those articles in this paper about the old "Pigeon Drop" scheme as the reason for that pair of women being arrested by Daly City police Capt. Dave Hansen and posse the other day while "working" Serramonte Shopping Center. The pair tried their little trick on four elderly folks — and were rejected each time. We're going to change that saying to: "There's no smarts like an old smarts!"

BIG RUN ON PLASTIC bags at your friendly corner grocery. All because of the garbage strike. What to do? Take your garbage, wrap it nicely with a bow and leave it on the back seat of your car. Within minutes someone will break in and steal it.

NEXT WEEK IS WHEN the D.C. Planning Commission will make its decision on redevelopment around the BART station. We've been saying a cut down version of the Citizens' Advisory Committee recommendations will be accepted. But someone told us to watch out for a zinger. Said there would be a "surprise" in store for us at that meeting.





AS MUCH water capacity as all existing facilities in Daly City is being built into this 10.5-million gallon tank west of Junipero Serra Boulevard just off Gellert Boulevard and overlooking Serramonte. When finished, the 300-foot long, 240-foot wide, 21-foot deep tank will have room for ten tennis courts and parking nearby for 20 cars, plus a pump station and recreation building. There also will be landscaping in the future, officials say. The huge structure was redesigned several times because of a change in the federal Small Dams Act, which was amended after the San Fernando Valley earthquake of February, 1972. The design was in keeping with more restrictions and resulted in the concrete box design being built. The top photo is a rround-level view. Lower photo is from above. The design was by Kirker-Chapman Associates of San Francisco and construction is by Yegge Construction Co. of Santa Clara County.

'Travel'

So there's a gas shortage; perhaps you can't get to New York and Watergate and all points east, but you can have fun in California with no more expenditures of the natural resources than a tank or two of gas.

For such a trip let your guides be Jo Ann and Gordon Prager whose book, "One Day Trips in Northern California," gives you easy-to-follow directions from San Francisco and East Bay cities.

MAKE A TRIP to the Valley of the Moon where the flavor of the old California is kept alive. There — in the middle of the valley — you will find Sonoma with a central plaza that is surrounded by a number of historical monuments that are reminiscent of early life in the northernmost town of the Spanish-Mexican period.

It is mere walking distance from the plaza to the wonderful Mission San Francisco Solano de Sonoma, to the Bear Flag Monument, the Blue Wing Inn and the Sonoma Barracks. Within each of these structures your mind can race back to the mid 1880's.

Three-fourths of a mile from Sonoma Plaza you can find the home of the great Californian, Mariano Vallejo. There you will find among its attractions a Swiss chalet that serves as a museum. Nearby there are picnic grounds on lands that belonged to the aristocrats of "old California."

NOT FAR from Sonoma lies Train-town, offering a ride in an 1890 locomotive that travels through the Sierra mining region. There also in the Valley of the Moon are found the Count Haraszthy wine cellars, the Sebastiani Winery, the Jack London State Park and the Marin French Cheese Company.

There are nine other one-day trips in the Prager's guide. Each carries one to adventure in such places as Santa Cruz, Angel Island State Park, Point Reyes National Seashore, historic Sacramento, Sausalito, Knowland State Park, Muir Woods and Mt. Tamalpais and along the ocean in our own San Mateo County.

MANY CALIFORNIANS do not realize that they live in an area that made one of its first pioneers, John Bidwell, shout "It's a joyful sight."

California has a total of 158,297 square miles. Its coastline is approximately 1,200 miles long, somewhat less thanone-tenth of the total coastline of the United States. Its mountains stand so high the Paiute Indians called the area "the land of shining mountains." They are filled with valleys that burst with the oldest and highest trees in the world. They erupt into high peaks, among them 41 that exceed 10,000 feet.

Surely, California offers fun and adventure to everyone who cares to find it.

CBS Launches New Morning News Show

The fight for morning audiences goes on. Today CBS kicked off its new morning news show designed to compete with the long running "Today Show." The show was well staged with two very attractiver people at the helm. Hughes Rudd, a veteran and very substantial newsman has been assigned the chore of anchor man, and lovely Sally Quinn, formerly of the Washington Post has been called in to handle the women's angle.

When it comes to femininity, Miss Quinn will score a considerable number of points over Barbara Walters on the NBC Show.

For starters, Miss Quinn's role in the show was limited, but we presume this is to give her a chance to feel her way and make herself comfortable.

limited, but we presume this is to give her a chance to feel her way and make herself comfortable.

Sally Quinn

The new show is much different, and refreshingly so. It included a sports feature, a metropolitan roundup, a Washington interview or two. Dan Rather was called in to do the interview.

CBS Morninng news is not a new show. It has been on the air for sometime, but has never been able to make an impression against the well-established "Today Show." Several outstanding newsmen have been put in the spot, but impressions on the general public were almost nil. The "Today Show" was just too well established with Frank McGee, Miss Walters and the various other personalities.

MEANWHILE, TODAY was not the last big test for "Today." Lurking in the wings is ABC's early morning entry in the field. Jim Dunbar, who has been making some impact and has been scoring points against the "Today Show" locally, is now in New York attempting to do the same thing. If he shows improvement over what WABC in New York has been doing, it looks like Jim will be leaving Hillsborough and the Bay Area, which probably won't be very easy for him.

PBS, THE PUBLIC broadcast service which supplies programs to such stations as KQED and KCSM here in San Mateo, has announced its fall lineup. Some of the things look pretty good. Among the goodies being offered will be a nine-part version of the 20-part BBC triumph, "War and Peace" by Leo Tolstoy. This will begin November 6. The new PBS season actually starts October 1 with its "Special of the Week" which goes up against Monday night Football and NBC's Monday Night Movie. The "Special of the Week" will not be the usual documentary one might expect but it will approach things on a comedy level with lots of musical portions. It is being done by the former co-producer of the Flip Wilson Show, Bob Henry.

Other specials of the week will be a five-part study of the major causes of deaths among Americans, the American Ballet Theater from the Kennedy Center, the Newport Jazz Festival, and a special salute done by the festival to Louis Armstrong.

"Masterpiece Theatre" will be back too. The BBC will supply three British mystery serials. One of them, "Clouds of Witness" by Dorothy Sayers, I saw in England last year and it is suspense at its very best.

Effect of Limiting Campaign Spending

Last week this column wrote of the limitation of campaign giving and expenditures and of the unexpected side effects of over enthusiastic legislation. One major point raised was that care must be used to prevent such laws from also limiting the flow of essential public information. The point deserves elaboration.

Candidates live in an indifferent environment. They come and go unnoticed unless they make an impact on an apathetic and disinterested public. They live in a sea of humans, each particle of which is preoccupied with his or her own problems and challenges. It is as though, slowly sinking in apathy, the candidate shouts: "I'm here! I'm here! It's me, Joe Clean! Please remember me — if nothing else my name — Joe Clean — Joe Clean — Joe Clean."

Incumbents, of course, have some advantage, but even they are in danger of being ignored. Little wonder, therefore, at the foolish antics of some of our public men. Some have found that atrocious statements and behavior attract attention in the absurd theater of public life, and in the interest of survival sacrifice stability and decency.

Most such men, fortunately, have not strained to become "newsy." They have left the dog biting to others and have relied on more dignified and traditional means of self promotion. This includes as much legitimate hard news as possible, and in the difficult days of campaigning, regular programs of commercial advertisement.

What does a campaign cost, and how does this compare with suggested limitations? The easiest way to express basic cost is to consider a minimal mail piece. Mailed at bulk rate an unimpressive missive can be designed for about 8 cents per household. If a moderately effective piece is desired the cost becomes 10 or 12 cents. Apply to this a 75 per cent factor to adjust for the difference between mailing to each household and each voter, and it can be seen that one communication by mail will use approximately 7 to 9 cents per voter.

Remember that in considering a mailer we have only scratched the top of the cash register. The cost of television, radio, and print media advertisements are astonishingly high, particularly in metropolitan areas.

But under some proposed reforms, the candidate wouldn't have to worry about such luxuries. Some reformers earnestly seek an expenditure limitation of 10 cents per registered voter. Under this kind of formula with a headquarters, a few phones, stamps, a secretary, and one not too impressive mail piece all is gone.

One wonders if the sponsors of this stringent measure have considered its likely effect. This seems doubtful, for with this kind of strangulation, only incumbents and the already known will have a chance. By overdoing a good thing, those seeking good government would only succeed in foisting on the public the greatest establishment legislation in recent history.

Most of the changes popularly suggested have great merit. Strict accounting and full public disclosure are long overdue. Effective penalties for violations are needed, and the passing and use of cash should be banned. The size of gifts, both in absolute total from an individual, and to particular candidates should be limited.

These and other restrictions if carefully drafted will improve the democratic process. Such changes are included in a wide variety of local, state and federal proposals. The bill recently passed by the United States Senate intelligently treats of these and other matters, and also rationally approaches the problem of expenditure limitation. This proposed law sets a variable formula for Senate campaigns based on 25 cents per registered voter, and a limit for House races of 25 cents per registered voter or $300,000, whichever the greater.

On other levels, however, unrealistic limits are suggested. The People's Lobby in California has included in a draft of an initiative measure a 10 cent standard as the basic element of a formula for state offices. For reasons discussed in this article, it must be concluded that's such a plan would do more harm than good. It is to be hoped that the leaders of the People's Lobby will test their recommendations against some real life campaign budgets before offering their program to the public.

Musical 'Tom Sawyer' Is Unspoiled Recall to Youth

Cynic that I am, I was sure that the musical version of "Tom Sawyer" would be somewhat less lively and memorable than the book. Doesn't Hollywood always spoil good writing by up-dating, down-grading or generally whitewashing the original novel?

Not so with the Mark Twain classic now playing on the Peninsula. And the lively melodic score by the Oscar-winning musical brotherhood of Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman actually advances the plot, bridging scenes and adding a poignancy that is often lost in translating to film.

The cast is especially appealing with Johnny Whitaker, the engaging young actor best known for his TV series, "A Family Affair" playing Tom. He generates a naturalness and candid innocence in this beloved story of a small town boy with a penchant for getting into trouble (a different sort than boys today incur) as he experiences growing pains and decision-making under a rebellious mantle.

His sidekick is an equally bequiling youngster, Jeff East, making his film debut as the audacious and nonconforming Huckleberry Finn. The two lads make a convincing team as they explore the limits of freedom in Hannibal, Missouri more than 100 years ago.

Producer Arthur P. Jacobs, a man of character and good taste who died last month at an early age during the filming of the sequel, "Huckleberry Finn," gave the film an eloquence in the ambiance and bucolic surroundings of a Mississippi town.

By casting Celeste Holm as Aunt Polly and Warren Oates as Muff Potter, the lovable drunken character, he gave the movie stature and a familiar hold on contemporary audiences. It might otherwise have gone off into fantasy and unemotional play-acting. Jacobs will be sorely missed by the film industry and audiences who have come to rely on his honesty as a filmmaker. This picture, which was financed by Reader's Digest, is a tribute to his memory.

Director Don Taylor evokes a romantic tone that is enforced by the charming music. Miss Holm is both stern and wise in her plain-dealing portrayal of Tom's aunt. They have their differences but without being sentimental, you knows she loves him dearly. Once that is communicated, you know the heroics of the second half won't be unduly melodramatic.

I enjoyed the sense of fear I had in that dark, dank subterranean cave when Tom leads Becky (played delightfully by Jodie Foster) away from the terrorizing Injun Joe (Kunu Hank).

"Tom Sawyer" is a film for everyone, not only those parents who want to relieve the enchantment of childhood innocence. It's escapist entertainment that will survive time and fad.

Broom Hockey, Softball Top DC Playground Fare

ABE LINCOLN —The results are in from Abe Lincoln's ping pong tournament. It was a long hard battle against the area's finest players. Young Bobby Beirernat almost scored an upset over the tournament's winner Jeff Lang. Instead, Bobby finished second with Mike Trautner coming in third. Other winners were Paul Paulka, Greg Zatcoff and Teri Zatcoff.

Last Wednesday the playground held a surprise "going away" party for Rori Silva. She is moving to Weimar, Calif.

COLMA — Little Jeff made a fatal mistake when they challenged Colma, the defending city broom hockey champs. The Colma stickers are led by Greg Ortiz, John Sangiacomo, Howard Calhoun, Dave Gamache, Greg Taylor, Greg Zanders and Earl "Bubba" Woods. Observers reportedly agreed that Little Jeff will be no match for these tough body-checkers.

Bike day produced many thrills. Gina Cardinale and Charlie Cardinale won honors for the "best decorated bicycle." Richard Navarro won the bike slalom when he defeated Jerry Santana and Alex Santana by one second. Jerry Santana also got the "Evel Knievel" Award for the thrills he gave the crowd with his bike stunts.

The Colma carroms ladder is attracting many hustlers. Jerry Santana, Earl Woods, Greg Ortiz, Richie Kelly and Greg Zanders, are sitting at the top of the ladder. Chris Prader, "Papa" Sims, Scott Martin and Nicky Huertas still are challenging for the top position.

At the top of the ping pong ladder rests Greg Zanders, Gigie England, Nicky Huertas and Diana Maxwell. The "also rans" consist of Tim Howard, Cynthia Liston, Roberta Martini and Steve Rosa.

Finally the "cook of the week" goes to Charlie Cardinale: Charlie thrilled the Colma gluttons with his expert consumption of burnt hot dogs.

DANIEL WEBSTER — The annual Daniel Webster broom hockey invitational was held last week with great teams from Little Jeff, OLM and Junipero Serra meeting in a battle with the Daniel Webster's All Stars. In the 14 and older class, Daniel Webster took first place with the star playing of Dave Hirsel, Ron Spinetti, George and Pete Martin, Frank Kakelo and Mike Montigue.

In over all competition, Little Jeff won first with Junipero Serra second and OLM third.

In softball, Westmoor Park lost two more games to the Webster all stars. The Westmoor slump will be tested this week with another doubleheader scheduled.

F. C. ROOSEVELT — Last week a newly-formed softball team hardily swept a doubleheader from Woodrow Wilson 8-4 and 6-3 not bad considering it was the first time the team had played together. Outstanding players for FDR were Vincent Lawrence, Clyde Amaral and Antonio Cruz, just to name a few. FDR is ready to take on any playground in Daly City.

A hulahoop contest was held at FDR last week with Tony Lewis, Vincent Lawrence and the youngest representative of the Tavita family coming out the victors in their respective age groups.

"Wheels Day" was a big success at FDR, with lots of winners. First place overall in the elementary division: Mary Kay McCullough in the girls division and Chico Lewis in the high school division. Lewis was also crowned "Wheelie champion" of FDR. Danny Dawson was crowned "Big Wheel Champ" of FDR's first annual "Wheels Day".

LITTLE JEFF — The Jeff Pioneers broom hockey team walked away with first place honors at a doubles elimination tournament recently at Daniel Webster. Led by Danny Mendoza and Ron Portillo, the team passed and blocked to a 9-2 victory over Junipero Serra Park. In the finals with Daniel Webster Mike Boyd, Don McCrum, Ed Boyd and Mark Nobles held the team together into overtime with the score 4-4. Hikey Hara came through as the team's "Most Valuable Player".

There's lots of action on Jeff's field. Participants include Barry Franklin, Ed, Val and Vic Gonzales. A softball team is in the making. The regular bring-your-own thing barbecue is scheduled for Friday.

PALISADES PARK — Palisades Park, represented by Alfonso and Martin Zelaya, Mark Unger, Marc and Chris Ostegard and Andy and Ricky Morgan defeated the champs of Vista Mar in softball. This is the first time in the memory of the "regulars" that Palisades Park has placed a winner against other parks.

This week there was to be a checkers tournament. The younger set competed Monday and the older set Tuesday. A free-throw contest was to be today. And as previously advertised, the pie eating contest will be Friday. Barbecues are held every Tuesday at 12:30 p.m., but bring your own food.

VISTA GRANDE — Last week's barbecue was a success as Elizabeth Carranza, Matt and Chris Scopatici, John Perez, Rene Pepper and Teddy Wetherbee were among the mans who enjoyed hot dogs, drinks and watermelon.

The "over the hill gang" split a doubleheader with Marchbanks Park. The "gang" won the first game with a six-run eighth inning. Arthur Diaz, Victor Ruiz, Jim Martire, Jose Ruiz, Dave Howlett and Nancy Buitrago all crossed the plate.

Lions Only Unbeaten Left in Jr. Baseball

The boys baseball leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division have entered their last two weeks of play.

In seventh grade play the P.A.L. Eagles have started to make their move after losing their first four games and have now won their last four in a row.

The Eagles claimed a 15-1 win over OLPH with outstanding pitching with Mike Hardwick, Richard Rogers and timely hitting by Sean Sissor and pitcher Hardwick.

The PAL Eagles then edged the PAL Caulley Litho Liners 7-6 behind Gavin Lau's three-inning shutout pitching.

The PAL Colts kicked up a storm as they caged the Wildcats 5-1. Jim Ponlos and Brian Jones pitched one-hit baseball and struck out eight enroute to the victory. Dave Yohannon and Randy Rerez each had two hits for the winners.

The Eagles again flew high and came down with an 8-7 victory over the league leading Colts. Alva Warner hit a three-run homer in the first inning but the Colts could not score again until the sixth. Mark Navarro, the big gun of the Eagles' "new look," drove in four runs with a single and double. Mick Hardwick baffled the Colts for three innings. Lau, Dennis Washburn and Richard Rogers strummed out sweet music with their bats for the winners.

The Wildcats took a 7-1 decision from Carriage House and the PAL Liners lost to the OLPH Tigers 8-7. In the final game of the week the P.A.L. Eagles flew from a five-run deficit in the last inning to claim a 13-12 win over the Wildcats. Rogers hit a game-tying bases loaded triple in the last frame. Washburn then singled Rogers home with the winning run. Nikki Deguzmann's curve was breaking and his fastball popping as he set down a hardhitting SAL Wildcat team.

Bill Veek's Contribution to Dwarf Power

Le Pacini

Remembering

Recently there was a convention of dwarfs in San Francisco and one of their main themes was that there is a continuing if often subtle discrimination against extra very little people. Bill Veeck, flamboyant former baseball promoter and owner, should have been their guest of honor, because aside from P. T. Barnum, who invented General Tom Thumb, Veeck has had more to do with immortalizing little people than anyone in the world.

Veeck did his deed in 1951 when his newly acquired team, the St. Louis Browns, were heading for another last place finish and he had seemingly pulled all stops to boost attendance — including his third signing of Satchel Paige. It was then that Veeck came to the realization that it was the 50th anniversary of the American League. What could be more appropriate, reasoned Veeck, than a gigantic birthday party for the league.

Veeck looked at his schedule and figured that a Sunday, August 19 doubleheader against equally lowly Detroit would be a good date. He then enlisted the aid of his radio sponsors, a local brewery, and told them that, in addition to the party, he would do something original enough to elicit national publicity. As was Veeck's wont, he made the promise before actually dreaming up the stunt.

He finally decided, quite rationally, that the best procedure would be to do something that nobody had ever seen before. He then remembered that John McGraw, a friend of his father's when the elder Veeck was president of the Chicago Cubs, had kept a little hunchback around the clubhouse as a sort of good luck charm and how McGraw used to tell Veeck's father that someday he was going to send his "gnome" up to bat. That was it! Veeck would send a midget to the plate!

Veeck called a theatrical booking agent, requested an athletic midget and came up with Eddie Gaedel, a man in his mid-twenties, three-feet-seven and 65 pounds.

When Gaedal was apprised of the scheme he was skeptical, but Veeck convinced him that it would be an historic occasion and that Gaedel's appearance would not only be in front of thousands of people, but that his name would remain in big league record books in perpetuity. "You'll be immortal," Veeck told him.

That argument convinced Gaedel, who was, after all, in show business. Veeck then instructed him in how to stand at the place in a crouch, which gave Gaedel a measured strike zone of one-and-one-half inches!

Gaedel was hired for one day at $100 and signed to a standard player's contract with a salary set on an annual basis and a guaranteed 30-day payment upon termination. They computed the salary on the basis of $100 a game and put in an additional clause in which Gaedel agreed to waive the 30-day notice.

On the morning of the game, Veeck wired American League headquarters that he was activating a player named Edward Gaedel.

That afternoon 18,000 fans appeared, the biggest home crowd in four years. Every customer was given a slice of birthday cake and a box of ice cream. The Browns lost the first game, but things kept rocking. Between games the Browns' band, featuring Paige on the drums, performed at home plate. At first base was a hand-balancing act; at second, a trampoline act, and at third base, a team of jugglers.

Gaedel had, in the meantime, been smuggled into Veeck's office, where he dressed in a uniform borrowed from the seven-year-old son of one of the executives the Number 1-8 was sewn on its back. At the appropriate time, Brownie traveling secretary Bill Durney snuck Gaedel down under the stands and placed him in a hollowed-out section in the middle of a seven-foot birthday cake hidden under the ramp. The cake was rolled out onto the field and the PA man announced, "Ladies and gentlemen, as a special birthday present to manager Zack Taylor, the management is presenting him with a brand new Brownie." At that, the cake opened and Gaedel popped out, a feat which caused only scattered applause and limited chuckling.

The sponsors, with whom Veeck was now sitting, weren't impressed. They couldn't see how a midget was going to get them national publicity. They didn't know Veeck. When the Browns got up for their half of the first inning in the second game, Gaedel emerged from the dugout swinging three miniature bats, and was announced as a pinchhitter for Frank Saucier, an outfielder who, ironically, was at bat only 14 times in his major league career.

Needless to say, the fans went wild, the sponsors jumped out of their seats and home plate umpire Ed Hurley was stunned. He headed for the dugout and demanded to know what Taylor was trying to pull, whereupon Taylor produced the contract, a copy of a telegram from league headquarters approving the new player and a copy of the active list with Eddie's name on it. Hurley had no choice but to wave Gaedel to the batter's box.

Detroit southpaw Bobby Cain stiffled his giggles long enough to take the mound and catcher Bob Swift thought fast and offered Cain a target from a kneeling position. With the park in bedlam, Gaedel astonished Veeck by standing at the plate not in his crouch, but straight up, his feet wide, in an obvious imitation of Joe DiMaggio! It suddenly occurred to Veeck that the "little ham" as he called him, might actually have decided to have a rip at the ball! Luckily, Cain was by that time laughing so heartily that he could hardly throw the ball, and he walked Gaedel on four pitches. Jim Delsing pinch-ran for Eddie, who waved at his fans and disappeared into the dugout.

The next day, American League President Will Harridge issued a new ruling making it mandatory that all player contracts be filed with and approved by the president. He also decreed that Gaedel's appearance be stricken from the record books. But Veeck had promised Eddie that he would be immortal and successfully argued Harridge into allowing Gaedel's name to remain in the books for posterity.

That's the end of the story. Taylor, Cain, Swift and Hurley are all long since retired; Harridge is no longer president of the American League; Veeck is promoting horse racing; and Gaedel himself recently died, secure in the knowledge that his name would indeed remain in the record books forever.

But we can't help wondering — in light of the fact that dwarfs and midgets now are organized and being constantly reminded by various civil rights groups of their presence and willingness to fight with vigor any minority 'cause — if, indeed, it is the end of the story. What would organized baseball do if it ever were challenged again by a midget for his right to play professional baseball, even if only at the minor league level?

"You base your decision on that matter," solemnly said Chub Feeney, president of the National League. "Whoever the person is, on his competence as a ball player. If he's competent he certainly would be eligible to sign a professional contract. If his signing is done to create a carnival atmosphere, however, the situation is different."

American League Publicity Director Tom Monahan, speaking for President Joe Cronin, who was in conference the day we called Boston for a ruling, agreed with Feeney on the basic principle of competence. "The American League is not prejudiced against midgets," said Monahan. "We have no height limitations in this league. We leave that to the armed services. Anyone who is qualified to play, can play, no matter what his race, creed or size. Hell, if a club wants to count a specialized midget against its 25 man roster, it's their perogative."

Feeney would not answer to the question of how he would rule if a manager could prove the competence of a midget in drawing walks as a pinch-hitter, stating that he would not answer theoretical questions; despite the fact that he had already answered a theoretical question in giving his theoretical ruling on the theoretical possibility of a midget someday wishing to play pro ball.

What is the possibility of a midget ever again appearing in a major league box score? According to the above quotes and keeping in mind that Feeney and Cronin (not to mention Monahan) are Irish and as such have a heritage which venerates the little people, perhaps Eddie Gaedel someday will have to share the immortality conferred upon him by Bill Veeck.

For Today's Woman

By Carol Drake
Food Consultant

If you're eating a lot of rice at your house, it makes good sense! Rice is an ideal extender for meat, cheese and seafood dishes. Because of its bland flavor, rice is a perfect accompaniment for many exotic dishes. An excellent source of carbohydrates, rice is also an important source of iron and B complex vitamins. Low in sodium and cholesterol content, rice has only a trace of fat. Its low fiber content makes rice 98% digestible. So you see while you're using rice to help reduce food costs, you're also providing vital and nutrients for your family.

If you cook extra portions of meats for future use, remember that rice freezes very well. Because it comes in many different forms, take time to read package instructions and decide which is best for your needs. Last night, I browned thin cut boneless steak in a little hot oil, added salt, pepper, dehydrated vegetable flakes and onion flakes, along with a little white wine and just enough water to cover. When almost done, mushrooms were added. Served over instant rice with a tossed green salad, the meal was well received. Last week, a chocolate pudding was on our menu. This gang loves this old fashioned dessert served with Lucerne Half and Half!

Brandy Serves a Multitude Of Kitchen Uses

Brandy has been a favorite in fine cooking for hundreds of years, but not until this month has there appeared a book devoted to its innumerable culinary capabilities.

"The First Brandy Cookbook," is the result of several years of research and recipe selection by Malcolm R. Hebert, California brandy fancier.

The book covers aspects of cooking with brandy, from appetizers to desserts, but the main fare consists of many new fish, fowl and meat entrees along with variations of traditional ones. Other sections treat brandy cocktails, flips and punches, as well as suggested menus for different seasons and situations.

The section on appetizers ranges from brandied mushrooms and olives to an interesting array of cheeses. There is also a separate chapter on sauces, salads and salad dressing.

More than 20 new dessert recipes are offered, including an interesting series of hard sauces and dessert omelettes.

The book concludes with a discussion of the development of brandy, particularly as it relates to California, where virtually all American brandy is produced.

Copies of "The First Brandy Cookbook," which retails for $3.95, can be obtained at local bookstores or from Nitty Gritty Productions, P.O. Box 5457, Concord, Ca 94524.

Here are some sample recipes from the book.

MUSHROOMS MONTEBELLO

½ lb. fresh mushrooms, small button variety
½ teaspoon crushed oregano
Salt and pepper to taste
¼ cup olive oil
1 clove of garlic, crushed
1 tablespoon California brandy
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
a pinch of dill weed

Cut the stems from the mushrooms and reserve for anothe use. (They can be chopped fine, mixed with homemade mayonnaise and spread on thin Melba toast.) Wash the mushroom caps thoroughly, dry and cut in half. Mix all of the remaining ingredients together in a bowl, add the mushroom caps and toss until all are thoroughly coated with the marinade. Let stand at room temperature for about an hour. Serve with toothpicks. Enough for about eight people.

CIOPPINO SAN FRANCISCO STYLE

1 large onion chopped fine
¼ cup olive oil
1 can tomatoes (1-lb. 14-oz.), chopped fine, plus the liquid
1 can tomato paste (6 oz.)
1¼ cups white wine
3 cups water
¼ cup California brandy
½ teaspoon each of thyme, oregano, and coarsely ground black pepper
1 bay leaf, crumbled
3 crabs, cracked
lb. scallops, cut in half
1 lb. small shrimp, shelled and deveined
24 clams in the shell

Saute the onions in the olive oil, using a very large pot, until lightly browned. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, wine, water, brandy and seasonings. Cover and simmer for two hours. Add seafood and cook for another ten minutes or until shellfish are done. To serve, divide the fish portions equally into large soup bowls and pour the sauce over them. Serves 12.

STEAKS IN PURGATORY

¼ cup flour
6 small steaks, sirloin if possible, 1 inch thick
6 tomatoes, peeled, seeded and chopped
¼ cup olive oil
¼ cup shopped parsley
½ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
2 tablespoons California brandy

Flour steaks. In a large skillet over high heat, brown the steaks quickly, then remove steaks and cook the tomatoes, olive oil, parsley, pepper, and brandy until the tomatoes are almost reduced to a puree. Add the steaks and cook to your taste: rare — 5 to 8 minutes; medium — 8 to 10 minuntes; well done — anything after 12 minutes. Serve on buttered toast with a little of the sauce.

Variations: Add a clove of garlic for an Italian touch; curry for an Indian touch; sherry along with the brandy for a Spanish effect; the combinations are endless. Serves 6.

FILET FLAMBE

6 medium size fresh filets of sole
Salt and pepper, to taste
1½ tablespoons California brandy
1½ tablespoons Pernod

Rub the filets with salt, pepper, and paprika. Place in well-buttered pan and broil until done (flakes easily with a fork). Warm mixture of brandy and Pernod, pour over fish, and flame. When flame dies, serve. Serves 6.

Food for Life

The Menace Of Molds

By GEORGE M. BRIGGS, Ph.D.
Nutritionist

Mycotoxins, one of the most potent classes of toxins yet discovered by man, are getting lots of attention by food toxicologists these days.

Though it has not been proven that the mycotoxins are harmful to men, they possibly may be "the cause of many of the unexplained diseases of man and animals," according to a recent statement of government food scientists. Produced by lesser known molds, the toxic action of the substances is very slow and it could take many years before symptoms might occur.

Foods contaminated with the mycotoxins are known to be toxic to animals at extremely low levels — less than one part of the toxin per million parts of food. Many thousands of different kinds of farm and laboratory animals, eating contiminated feed, have died from either liver tumors, lung edema or disorders of the brain and other tissues. The cause of death varies with the dose, age, diet, and species of animal.

The mycotoxins, of which the "aflatoxins" are the best known, are found especially in foods not properly dried or stored. The molds, or fungi, which produce them thrive on moisture and on the broken kernels of grains and legumes. Peanuts, cottonseed, and sweet potatoes are favorite foods of the molds but they also grow on corn and nuts. Usually only a small percentage of the food is affected but this is sufficient to contaminate the whole supply unless removed. The toxins can be transmitted to animals through their feed.

By the way, not all moldy foods are toxic — the common molds on bread, jam and cheese, for example, are fortunately not usually the species which make these particular toxins.

Because the mycotoxins are so poinsonous for animals, the Food and Drug Administration has been quietly setting up a massive procedure for testing samples of local and imported foods. Many major food companies have set up their own testing procedures and educational programs.

Though there is no reason to get alarmed about this problem, the moral to the story is that it doesn't pay to take chances with your health by eating moldy food products. For instance, if you raise or store your own nuts or grains do not eat any portions that are moldy or appear unduly blackened.

No food product contaminated with significant amounts of these toxins is knowingly being sold in normal marketing channels today. However, slipups could occur anywhere — especially when food is bought outside of reliable markets or where good food quality control procedures are not practiced.

At Mayfair
You save more on food

Uncle Sam helps us prove that at Mayfair last week food cost less than at 8 other top chains.

Again last week, we compared food prices with the major supermarkets in this area.

"Specials", "total discount", and most other kinds of prices were compared. In this survey of July 21 to August 1, Mayfair's overall food prices were lower than eight other top supermarket chains'.

To try to be fair, the comparisons were again with Uncle Sam's list, the same full list of items that the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, uses every month to measure food prices as part of the cost of living.

These comparisons show you could have saved from $1.13 to $5.95 on the some $50 worth of basic foods in this list.

With the high cost of living these days, really, can you afford not to buy your food at Mayfair?

S.S.F. Church Project

Hot Meals for Aged

By JACK BIK

"It all started when we found that it was getting to be quite a chore, preparing and serving hot meals for an elderly couple at our church."

Dorothy Silva, co-chairman of the Missions-Social Concerns Commission of St. Paul's United Methodist Church of South San Francisco, was telling how her group had become involved in its latest project — a solution to one of the major problems facing the aging.

The organization is conducting a three-month trial project of delivering hot meals daily to some half-dozen homes. The hot meals are prepared by a Palo Alto firm, which delivers the food on trays to the church. The firm has promised that when it gets at least 20 customers in this area, it will handle the deliveries.

Nancy Armentrout, also co-chairman of the commission, told how the women's help to the elderly couple — those too healthy to be hospitalized, yet unable to do their own cooking — caused her circle to look into the entire problem of the aging in South San Francisco.

They wondered: How do aging South San Franciscans eat?

What they found out profoundly shocked and disturbed them.

Many elderly persons are suffering from malnutrition, shortening their lives because they lack the strength — or just the drive — to prepare their own balanced hot meals.

"Many elderly persons don't like to shop — many cannot shop," said Mrs. Armentrout. "Many find it too much of a chore to go out and get the food, then go through all the steps of preparing it."

She said one woman who had not cooked for four days grew so weak she fell on the floor and could not get up. She finally phoned the neighbor-help organization, FISH, and through it learned of the "meals on wheels" project.

The Palo Alto firm prepares a variety of special foods, including low sodium and diabetic diets. Tht volunteer group tries to concentrate on South San Franciscans, although there is one San Brunan served.

"It depends on how far the volunteers will go," Mrs. Armentrout said.

A person does not have to be disabled, convalescent or aged to order the service, Mrs. Silva added.

The meals cost about $2 each, and many persons on welfare cannot afford even this, Mrs. Armentrout said. However, that is another problem; the group is trying to get the service started for those who can afford to pay for their meals, so that it would be available in North County areas.

Those wishing information about the meals should call Mrs. Silva or Mrs. Armentrout at United Methodist Church in South San Francisco during the morning hours.

San Bruno Planners Study Jail Open Space Proposal

A proposal to rezone the controversial San Francisco County Jail No. 2 property west of San Bruno as "open space" is scheduled to be taken up by the San Bruno Planning Commission August 20.

At a study meeting last Monday City Atty. Joseph Galligan questioned the propriety of such zoning.

"I don't believe in O (Open Space) zones," Galligan said. "And I believe that eventually you'll see that the courts feel the same way."

Galligan said that if the property is considered as desirable for open space use "the public will have to buy the jail."

A report of a land use subcommittee of the commission stated that "there is a growing possibility that this jail may be abated within the foreseeable future." (The facility has been under fire in recent years from various sources because of alleged security problems and for other reasons.)

The brief report also noted that "LAFCO has indicated all property east of Sweeney Ridge should be within the sphere of influence of San Bruno."

San Bruno recently lost in a court ruling that stated the city could not rezone state-owned Crestmoor Canyon property to open space use. Assistant City Atty. Dermot Fitzgerald at the time said he felt the ruling could be successfully appealed.

Among other proposed land use revisions discussed Monday was suggestion that a new industrial park be earmarked for the area east of First Avenue, east of San Mateo Avenue and south of Interstate 380 within the city limits, but excluding all public lands.

"This neighborhood is approximately 40 years old and a general deterioration may be expected over the next few years," noted the subcommittee report.

"Proximity to the airport with its noise and air pollution would seem to discourage future residential development. It is in the best interests of the present property owners to protect them from haphazard and piecemeal redevelopment."

Stroke Club Meets Aug. 14

The Mary's Help Hospital Stroke Club will meet Aug. 14 at 7 p.m. in the ninth floor recreation room of the Daly City hospital.

Guest speaker will be dietician Eva Morganstern, who will conduct a question and answer discussion on special diets for stroke patients.

The meeting is open to all stroke victims, their families and friends. The purpose of the club is to help stroke patients adjust to the new life styles made necessary by a stroke.

More information may be obtained by contacting Sister Mary Ann at 992-4000, ext. 284, or Dianne McGowan, ext. 291.

Rites Held for Millbrae Girl Killed in Bahamas

Funeral services were held in Millbrae Thursday for an 18 year-old Millbrae student who was killed in an accident in Nassau, in the Bahamas, July 27

According to her family, Elaine M. Clayton was reportedly driving a motor scooter when the accident occurred. Her sister, Peggy, was riding it also; Peggy received a concussion and minor injuries but is reported to have been not seriously injured.

Elaine M. Clayton was a student at College of San Mateo. She was an honor student at Capuchino High School. She was a pompon girl, and active in gymnastics, swimming and numerous community activities.

PAYMENTS versus LEASING
IF YOU LEASE you do not own the car, the leasing company does. You cannot do with it as you wish. It is their car — not yours! Upon termination of most leases (unless you pay a much higher rate per month) you are responsible for the balance owing against the car. You may even end up owing more than it's worth. We sell directly to lease companies and make a profit. They in turn make additional profit when they lease to you! Buying directly from us eliminates the 2nd mark-up.
IF YOU BUY you own the car. It is yours to do with as you wish. No mileage limitations or restrictions of any kind. At the end of 3 years the car is paid for and you own it. Free and clear! No balance! No deficiencies!

Buy with or without a trade-in (paid for or not) The choice is yours!
